Man Identified as Stanley Siehan Pays Penalty for Violating Parole

Minneapolis — (AP) — Two men are dead and two wounded seriously as the result of a gun fight here Tuesday night when an attempt to loot was staged.

Michael Lawrence, 67, veteran police sergeant, was shot and killed by a man believed to be Stanley Siehan, an alien and a convict, who in turn was shot down and mortally wounded by a policeman.

Edward Verno, a patrolman, received four bullet wounds in the legs, and Albert V. Manchester, grocer, received a bullet in the abdomen and another in the wrist. Both were shot by Siehan.

The fight started when Siehan attempted to hold up Manchester in the latter's store on the north side. Manchester refused to comply with the robber's commands and ran for his revolver. Two bullets greeted him when he returned with his weapon.

GUN SQUAD PURSUES
The north side precinct police were notified and its gun squad, headed by Sergeant Lawrence, started search of the neighborhood for the holdup man.

Siehan's actions attracted their attention and as they halted their automobile near the suspect to question him Siehan fired, killing Lawrence and wounding Verno. As Siehan fled, Patrolman Clarence J. Zane, pursued him and brought his man down fatally wounded.

Siehan, who formerly lived at Kenosha, Wis., had been serving an indeterminate term at the Minnesota penitentiary for robbery. Several days ago he was given a conditional release with the stipulation that he be deported to his home in Manitoba province, Canada.

TRIPP IS REELECTED HEAD OF RIPARIANS

Oshkosh — (AP) — At the annual meeting of the association for relief of high water, which has done much towards getting a solution of the problem of floods in the Fox River valley, endorsement was given last year officers, all being reelected as follows:

President, Alan H. Tripp, Oshkosh; vice president, P. J. Wolff, Fond du Lac; secretary, Mayor R. D. Haentze, Fond du Lac; treasurer, W. J. Kelly, Vandenberg. Reports indicated the recent trip to Washington, D. C., of representatives had secured interest among federal officials regarding relief from floods on riparian lands and for legislation permitting claims for damage.

NASH TELLS COURT OF BLACKHAND NOTES

Kenosha — (AP) — The preliminary hearing in the case of the state vs. Pietro Bendell charged with attempted extortion, occupied the attention of the municipal court here Wednesday.

The morning was spent hearing the testimony of C. W. Nash who merely identified three letters he had received threatening him with death unless he should deposit $10,000 at a certain street corner in Kenosha.

The court adjourned until 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon when detectives will be placed on the stand to testify to the arrest of Bendell on the night of Dec. 7 and he was seen walking away from the scene with the decoy package under his arm.

FIGHT PROMOTER SEEKS MILWAUKEE GRID BERTH

Milwaukee — (AP) — Frank Milkern, local matchmaker for a boxing club announced Wednesday that he is in the market for the Milwaukee professional football franchise. "Much depends upon my ability to obtain a lease on the Milwaukee Association baseball park," he said. "If I can obtain that, I see little in the way of giving Milwaukee a mighty fine professional football team."

BOY BAD MAN

This is Arnold Comer, 14, of Yellville, Ark., who stole a revolver from his father and started out to be a "bad man." He killed an aged woman from whom he begged food, clubbed her year-old granddaughter to death and slew a passer-by. He wounded three other people before he was captured, and expresses no remorse for his deeds.

CLAP PADLOCK ON ONE DOZEN ROAD HOUSES

Court Order Closes Resorts in Shawano and Other Counties of State

Milwaukee — (AP) — Twelve saloons and road houses were ordered padlocked by Judge F. A. Geiger in federal court here Wednesday.

Three of the places ordered padlocked fought their cases and the remainder consented to the permanent injunction which will close them for one year.

The places which fought the padlock order were: Royal Palace, Kenosha; Peterson and Sorenson's Milwaukee; and Frank Oberleiter's, Shawano-co. near Thornton.

In the case of Sorenson's defense attorneys pleaded that only two drinks were purchased by agents and they were bought in August. They said that this was so long ago that there was no correct recollection of the sale in the minds of the agents.

The other places padlocked are: Leo Gutch, Milwaukee-co; the place of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Havens, Milwaukee-co; Ben Tatusus, Port Washington; Bungalow Inn, between Fond du Lac and North Fond du Lac; Badger Gardens, Fond du Lac; John Pleschek, Waukechson; John Knobke, Greaham; Steve Halme, Milwaukee; and the Green Frog Inn, south of Milwaukee.

1925 Farm Prices Highest Since War, Says Nordman

Madison — (AP) — Prices of farm products have been higher during 1925 than during any other period since the war, Edward Nordman, state commissioner of markets, stated Wednesday.

But there has been no "basic" improvement in the agricultural situation, and "there will be none until something is done to change the fundamental conditions which are responsible for the ills from which agriculture suffers," he declared.

"The main trouble with agriculture is first, high overhead expenses resulting from high taxes and inflated farm values, and second, surplus production." Commissioner Nordman said. "Excessive taxes are due to the necessity of meeting the payment of the huge war debt while inflated farm values are the direct result of monopoly and speculation in natural resources as well as of taxes on the products of industry. All these factors increase the farmer's cost of production while surplus production forces him to accept inadequate prices for his pro-

LABOR FINDS MUCH TO KICK ON IN TARIFF

Economic Conference Told Textile Workers Suffer from Fordney Law

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1925 by Post Pub. Co.

Washington, D. C. — Labor's protest against the operations of the tariff and criticism by certain agricultural elements of the inequities of the Fordney law in particular, have been earnestly expressed at the two-day conference here of the People's Reconstruction league, an organization composed largely of labor union leaders and some of the more radical farm groups.

Thomas F. McMahon, international president of the Textile Workers of America, pointed to the successive cuts in wages of the textile workers, arguing that the workman was not receiving the benefits of the tariff. Mr. Moran, secretary of the United States Sugar association, contended that the total cost of the present sugar tariff is such that the government gets about $144,000,000, while $102,400,000 is "an indirect subsidy to the sugar interests." Abraham Berglund, of the University of Virginia, stated that since exports of rails were in 1924 four times the imports, while the ratio on structural shapes was three times the imports and in tinplate 150 times the imports, it was evident "that such trade balances do not argue for any tariff protection."

Argument of this kind came from other speakers taking up different commodities. For it was a general attack against the tariff principle all along the line. Some of the addresses were in a somewhat neutral vein, though Rollin E. Smith, chief of the United States Grain Futures administration, admitted that "largely due to the geographical position of the great wheat area of western Canada, the tariff on wheat is of considerable benefit to the American wheat grower but the tariff does not function 100 per cent."

WHEAT SURPLUS
Mr. Smith explained that one reason the tariff did not function well in wheat was because the farmers of America grow a large exportable surplus.

"Speculators," he said, "in this and other countries magnify the legitimate influence of the surplus. Prospects for a big Canadian crop, for example, may be taken advantage of by them and they may sell large amounts of wheat short with a consequent depression of prices. It is hoped, however, that this and other market abuses may be done away with a result of cooperation between the Grain Futures administration and the business conduct committee of the Board of Trade."

The agitation for tariff changes is incipient. Whether it will grow to serious proportions at this session of congress is difficult to foretell, though it is significant that the support at the conference for tariff reduction came from representatives of western and southern states. The Coolidge administration stands adamant on the protective principle.

New York — Alma Gluck is looking for new worlds to conquer in the matter of finance. She made $125,000 on a record of "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia," bought a house on Park-ave with the money in 1919 and now she has sold it for $300,000. Her husband, Efram Zimbalist, didn't like the idea of the house; he collects "Strada" but real estate looks better to Alma.

Costs More To Prepare Meal Than One Year Ago

Chicago, Ill. — The housewife at the close of 1925 finds most of items on her grocery shopping list are more expensive than they were a year ago. Of 23 articles in the meat, vegetable, fruit line, wholesale prices of 12 are higher, 9 are lower and 2 are unchanged from a year ago today.

The following quotations are those of the Chicago stockyards on meat, the department of agriculture on butter, fruits and vegetables, the Minneapolis price on flour and the Chicago produce exchanges on poultry and produce. In the main the quotations are the prices over most of the country except where differences in freight rates makes variations on poultry largely raised and sold locally. Sectional prices vary but dealers here say all classes of fowls are much higher this year than last everywhere.

Starting at the top of the menu, poultry is about half last year's prices. $1.50 to $1.75 a crate this year, $2.25 to $2.75 a crate last year. All down through the menu is a note of cheer in flour which is now and was a year ago $9.00 a barrel. For the meats, beef is a bit lower, while pork, ham and bacon are very much higher. A rib roast and a round steak are about the same price as last year, 26 cents on ribs and 14 cents on roundsteak, while sirloins and pot roasts are each 2 cents lower now, sirloins dropping from 30 to 28 cents and pot roast from 14 to 12. Ham is now 29 1/2 cents for a standard brand, 5 cents higher than a year ago. Bacon is now 28 1/2 cents a pound for a standard brand, 8 cents higher than a year ago. Pork loin is now 22 1/2, 6 1/2 cents higher than a year ago.

A little cranberry sauce is higher than last year. The berries are $8.50 to $9.00 a half barrel now and they were $7 at $7.50 a year ago. If you have poultry for the meat course the pocketbook is called on for considerably more than last year.

While flour for bread is unchanged, the butter is 48 cents now and 42 cents a year ago. Vegetables are taking the heaviest wallop at the family purse, especially the Irish potatoes. They are now $4.25 to $4.50 a 100-pound sack, and were $1.15 at $1.25 last year. Carrots, string beans and cabbage are all a little higher.

Lettuce is now $3.50 to $4.00 a crate compared with $3.25 to $3.50 last year. The eggs, if you use them here, are much lower than last year, 42 cents now for firsts which a year ago brought 50 at 57 cents.

IOWA GOVERNOR WILL CALL CORN BELT CONCLAVE

Farmers Want Government Subsidy With Guarantee of 5 Per Cent Profits

Des Moines, Ia. — (AP) — Within a few days Governor Hanniff of Iowa expects to call a corn belt farm relief conference to unite the farmers of 11 midwestern states back of a program of immediate relief for agriculture.

Plans for this conference and an insistence upon a farm products export corporation were among the principal measures adopted at the Iowa Bankers association. Iowa's entire congressional delegation spoke in favor of the "principal of the McNary-Haugen bill" as Senator A. R. Cummins expressed it.

Others, especially Senator Smith W. Brookhart and E. T. Meredith, former secretary of agriculture, advocated, in addition, a price fixing federal farm board.

"Tariff protected industries enjoy indirect price fixing," said Representative Gilbert N. Haugen. "There is nothing paternalistic or socialistic or difficult about fixing prices."

Senator Brookhart was sharply critical of the part he said the bankers played in deflating the farmer five years ago, which is just now bearing fruit. His proposed export corporation would start with $1,500,000.00 of government capital, add 5 per cent to farmers' cost of production and set that as the price.

FAKE COMET IS SEEN OUT EAST

Meteorite Flashes Over New York and Is Believed to Have Fallen in Ottawa

New York — (AP) — A blazing meteorite or "fire ball" which flashed out of the east across New York and New England Tuesday leaving in its wake a trail of reports that an unheralded comet had paid the earth a visit, is believed to have fallen near Ottawa, Canada, Ralph Delury, Canadian government astronomer said he would attempt to locate it.

Reports that a comet was abroad in the heavens were spread by thousands who saw the flaming train left in the murky early evening sky and mistook it for a comet's tail. Scientists along the route asserted it was only a meteor or perhaps a "fire ball" whose appearances are frequent.

It was scarcely more luminous than the stars when it appeared over New York city about 5:30 Tuesday evening. Soon reports came that it had flashed over northern and central New York state, leaving behind a wisp of undulating pinkish "smoke" in the sky.

CHECK HOODOO GOSPEL, DUTY OF SCIENTIST

Glenn Frank of University of Wisconsin Addresses Bacteriologists

Madison — (AP) — Scientists have not done their full duty to civilization until they have checked the advance of the evangelism of superstition by matching it with the evangelism of scholarship and science. President Glenn Frank of the University of Wisconsin declared in an address Tuesday night before the twenty-seventh annual meeting of American bacteriologists.

The hope of civilization, the speaker said, is the creative scholar or the thinker who has all the attributes of the burrowing mole and the singing lark. It is this sort of man who will become the new encyclopedist informing the people of the new science that reaches out for special service instead of selfish commercial interests.

Advances in general bacteriology, in agriculture and industrial bacteriology and in comparative pathology and immunology were subjects for discussion Wednesday.

Dealing with pertinent themes of advance science were 30 papers, among them a history of the beginning of bacteriology in the middle west by Dr. William Trelease and Dr. E. A. Birge, former president of the University of Wisconsin.

East as a substitute for meat extract in culture media was found acceptable for simple bacteriological work and an aid in presumptive tests to detect organisms in the soil group in experiments made by E. Johansen and Dean Broadhurst of the Teachers' college, New York.

Appearance of crystals in a semi-solid medium of bacterial growth were found by Sara A. Scudder of Evans Memorial, Boston, to be the result of bacterial activity.

An explanation of experiments with legumes by L. L. Babin, of the University of Wisconsin, showed that legumes belonging to the same cross inoculation groups possess similar seed proteins while legumes belonging to different cross inoculation groups appear to have proteins of decidedly different characteristics.

ARREST NEGRO WHO ABUSED LECHER BOY

Davenport, Ia. — (AP) — A negro arrested Saturday in the Lecher kidnapping case in Milwaukee was identified last night as William Brown, and has been turned over to a Milwaukee detective to be returned to that city where he will be tried for mistreating an 8-year-old white boy who was left in a box car after the attack.

Rabbi Explains Jewish Court Methods To Judges

Milwaukee — (AP) — The story of organization of courts and the method of administration of the law in the period between 200 B. C. and 500 A. D., as gleaned from Apocryphal literature and the Talmud was told the state board of circuit judges in session here Wednesday by Rabbi Samuel Hirschberg.

Incidentally he dealt with the trial and sentence to agonizing death of Jesus of Nazareth, explaining this trial and sentence could never have been held before, or sentence passed by a regularly and legally constituted court of Jews. So, however, he said, certain Jews, members of the priesthood may have convened court, tried and condemned him, wholly without sanction of his authority and utter defiance to all recognized and established principles of right, justice and legal procedure, as followed by arbiters and dispensers of law at that time. Crucifixion, he said, was a Roman method of avenging the violated

NO PROGRESS MADE IN NEW WAGE PARLEY

Miners Not Enthusiastic Over Proposal to Organize Conciliation Board

OPERATORS FAVOR PLAN
Scheme Calls for Joint Committee Collaborating With Citizens Committee

New York — (AP) — The question of arbitration appeared Wednesday to be the chief obstacle in the way of a settlement of the anthracite strike.

Miners and operators began a conference Tuesday with a nine-hour discussion in which the arbitration issue figured largely. The miners argued that it was unfair to arbitrate wages and not prices.

A new peace proposal found favor with the operators but is disliked by the miners.

The plan was presented by Alvan Markie, who is a minority stockholder in a large independent coal company near Hazleton, Pa., has no vote in the conference.

CAL TO APPOINT
The plan calls for the appointment by President Coolidge of three impartial citizens to submit recommendations to a joint committee of miners and operators, consisting of three representatives of each side. In the event of a deadlock in the joint committee, the citizens would have power to cast deciding votes.

In reply to the miners' arguments, Mr. Markie contended that his plan did not provide for arbitration but sets up machinery similar to that of the conciliation board created in 1903 by the anthracite coal strike commission appointed by President Roosevelt.

The conciliation board is composed of three miners and three operators, settles matters of interpretation of the wage contracts and cannot be decided at the mines between men and management. When the members of the board cannot agree on a disputed point it is referred to an umpire appointed by the United States circuit court of appeals at Philadelphia.

IS ILLEGAL
The miners asked whether the fact finding committee provided for in the Markie plan could investigate freight rates, royalties and other items entering into the cost of delivering coal to the operators and also whether it could fix the selling price of coal. Mr. Markie replied that the fact finding committee could not go beyond the limitation of the contract and that it would be a violation of the federal laws to fix the selling price of coal.

The miners charged that price fixing is practiced in the anthracite industry but this was denied by the operators. So far as could be learned the question of the checkoff by which miners' union dues are deducted from their pay by the operators and turned over to the local unions, did not come up for serious consideration. The joint conference was called to meet again at 8 o'clock Wednesday.

AWARD $15,000 FOR GREEN BAY HARBOR

Washington, D. C. — (AP) — Transfer of $15,000 in river and harbor allotments in the Wisconsin and Michigan area was announced Wednesday by army engineers. That sum was taken from provisions for Racine harbor, Kenosha harbor and South Haven harbor, Wis., and will be expended as follows:

Green Bay harbor, $15,000; Two Rivers harbor, $3,000; Holland, Mich., harbor, $8,000; Muskegon harbor, $3,000; Ludington harbor, $4,000; Green River harbor, $8,000, and Manistee harbor, $8,000.

DENTAL CLINIC READY FOR USE IN NEAR FUTURE

Room in Lincoln School Is Being Prepared for Dental
Work

Preparation of a room in Lincoln school for the free dental clinic is being completed rapidly. The project is sponsored by the Kiwanis club, the city of Appleton and the board of education. Dental equipment is being installed in a room at the west end of the second floor of the school. It formerly was used as a health room.

The board of education furnished the room, while the city is paying the expense of having the proper equipment installed. The equipment includes a dental chair which the city acquired from a past clinic. The Kiwanis club is furnishing the funds to take care of the work. A careful investigation is made as to the child's ability to pay for treatment before the free treatment is given so that only the deserving are cared for. Dr. W. H. Meeker is in charge of the new clinic.

A large drain basin and the water pipes were installed early this week and hot and cold water already is operating in the room. The room also is being painted and this job will be completed during the week. Sponsors of the project desire not only to furnish the room in fine style for the work but also to give a cheerful atmosphere, according to Ben J. Rohan, superintendent of schools.

BOYS PLAN PROGRAM TO GREET NEW YEAR

Plain, ordinary gymnasium mats will be the resting places of members of the boys' division of the Y. M. C. A. who take part in the New Year's eve "slumber party" in the department lobby Thursday night and Friday morning. The party was organized to see the new year in and will open at 9:30. The finals of the department basketball tournament in which eight boys' clubs of the association are participating will be played and the finals in the department free throw contest also will be run off. The free throw preliminaries were held Tuesday and Wednesday and the preliminaries in the cage tourney on Wednesday.

After these contests have been held a story telling hour will be held in the boys lobby and at 12 o'clock the boys will greet the New Year and make their resolutions for 1926. Then they will gather around the open grate to start their "slumber" party until Friday morning.

POTATO PRICES CLIMB AS MERCURY TUMBLES

Zero weather of the last week has caused potato prices to jump skyward. The retail price of spuds in Appleton grocery stores now is about $2.50 a bushel, while the price before the cold snap ranged from $1.75 to $2 a bushel. There is a scarcity of potatoes in the stores as the farmers and wholesale potato dealers are reluctant to make deliveries, fearing that the spuds will freeze enroute.

An increase in the wholesale price of potatoes has also been reported in the Chicago market. The wholesale figure is $3.90 a hundred. Another reason given for the increase by the Chicago market report is that there is smaller crop than earlier estimates indicated.

COPYRIGHT DEMANDS DRIVE HOTEL FROM AIR

Los Angeles—Increase in the annual fees charged a Los Angeles hotel by the American Society of Authors, Composers and Publishers for the privilege of broadcasting music copyrights of which are held by members of that organization, from $150 to $3,000 a year, has caused the hotel to cease broadcasting, says an announcement made by KJL, the station over which the hotel orchestra went on the air. The new fee would be charged beginning Jan. 1, 1926, the radio station announced. This is the first result of a great increase in the annual charge of the copyright holders.

GASOLINE BLAST KILLS FARMER; HOME RUINED

Brookfield—The ashes of Hiram Julius Veck, 34, who burned to death at his farm home when he poured gasoline on a fire, mistaking it for kerosene, were buried here. The man, mentally subnormal, was alone in the house. When his father, Ole H. Veck, saw the flames, he made a vain attempt to save his son and himself suffering severe burns. The home was destroyed.

HAYWARD EX-BANKER WANTS TERM SHAVED

Janesville—An application for commutation of sentence has been made for Henry Rohlf, former Hayward, Wis., banker, now serving an eight-year term in Port Leavenworth, according to William H. Dougherty, United States attorney for the western Wisconsin district.

Rohlf seeks a reduction in his sentence from eight to five years on the contention that the eight-year term, imposed by Judge C. Z. Luse, is illegal.

Federal attorneys oppose the reduction, holding that Rohlf was sentenced not for one special offense but "generally for the entire six indictments."

Several Appleton merchants had quite a large supply of Christmas trees left on their hands after the holiday because many Appleton families took their axes and hatchets, and journeyed north to do their own festive lumbering. The fact that the country roads were comparatively free from snow made it possible for people with cars to get out in the swamps and woodlands and get their own trees. There were some merchants who had only a small stock of trees on hand, and managed to sell most of them. These dealers received their trees early and did not stock up heavily during the few days just preceding Christmas.

MORE WORK, LESS PLAY, MAUTHE'S SUCCESS RECIPE

Fond du Lac Businessman Declares Profits Come from Preventing Wastes

If the United States is to get its share of world trade, its people must work more and play less. They need not go to the other extreme but neither can they afford to get into the short hour class.

This was the keynote of an address given by William Mauthe, president of the Remountable Typewriter Co., Fond du Lac, before members of Appleton Rotary club at their regular weekly meeting at Hotel Northern Tuesday noon.

"It is never popular to suggest less play and more work and I appreciate that I am telling you something unpleasant, but we live in a world of realities," Mr. Mauthe said. "We must deal with facts. Some facts we can make for ourselves, but most facts are imposed on us without our consent. Facing them squarely and frankly, even if we don't like them, is the first step in dealing with them skillfully."

MUST FACE TROUBLE

He said the springs of prosperity in this country are in a great measure within ourselves. The time is at hand when business men may expect periods when supply will exceed demand—the low cost of production in some European countries will help make it so, and the demand will go where service, quality and price are made most attractive, he pointed out.

"The goal of the American business man should be to get in to the low cost class and be ready to meet the changing conditions as they develop," he said. "Of course, the fundamental policies in business will remain the same, but the policy details of yesterday may not apply tomorrow. The great need right now is to stay on the job, stick to it, and do the things which we know should be done."

"The speaker, who recently returned from a tour of three and a half months through Europe, compared business methods of those countries with American methods. He observed that productive effort in England, France, Italy, Spain and several other countries seems to be looked upon as a necessary evil and that six hours a day is about all people in those countries care to work.

ENGLAND'S HANDICAPS

Government unemployment compensation in England handicaps the industries in that country, he believes. "The rate of wages is high, the government tax on industry is high, the expense of operation is high, but the volume of production is low and the competition for world trade is fierce."

Particularly in Spain and Italy time does not seem to be an important factor. In the opinion of Mr. Mauthe, he declared that although the rate of wage is not high, the short work day eliminates them from competition in the market. The business man in these countries opens his shop at 10 o'clock in the morning, closes at noon for three hours, and then goes back and again closes for the day at about 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

He said it seems to be the custom to dine at about 9.30 at night, attend theaters between 11.30 and 1.30, and then eat and drink for another hour before retiring for the night.

ANOTHER EXTREME

The other extreme is practiced in Austria, Germany and in some parts of Switzerland, he continued. Nearly every productive enterprise operates from 10 to 14 hours a day. Many industries operate 24 hours a day with two shifts. The rate of wage runs from about 25 to 40 cents an hour and everybody seems to be working.

"Although government taxes are also high, the expense is spread over a large volume of production and productive hours," he said. "The result is low cost of production with a selling price so low as to attract more orders and still greater industrial activity. Germany especially can compete in the world's market for trade and by it build up its industries and keep all its people adequately employed and contented."

One of the reasons why profit often has its origin in lower average prices and better average service than the general run is because the management eliminates the expensive wastes according to Mr. Mauthe.

"I do not have reference only to the unknown wastes but also to known wastes which we often disregard or do not try to get rid of," Mr. Mauthe said. "Usually when we talk of wastes we refer to material wastes, power or labor wastes. Such wastes, however large, do not approach in size, number and cost the wastes directly chargeable to management."

"We take the most important step toward profit when we begin to look directly and intelligently at the wastes chargeable to ourselves. It does not require an X-ray of magnification or vision to see through the smoke screen of some of the unnecessary non-productive wastes whose principal assets consist of selling themselves to the management. This waste must be eliminated if the business is going to be in the running."

He added that in addition to the unnecessary salary wastes there are capital wastes, due to the employment of too much or too little capital, as where stocks are too heavy or too light, or credits too lax or too stringent.

HUSTLE FOR PROFIT

"There are wastes due to over equipment and under equipment, and these are wastes due to buying too much at the wrong time, causing high selling prices, and many other similar wastes," the speaker declared. "I am not offering what is ridiculed as the counsel of perfection, for none of us can be perfect. Some wastes can be avoided and some cannot, but it is not far to expect the public to pay for inefficiencies in management. Profit is not a natural right. We have to hustle for it most of the time. It comes to some by accident and occasionally it comes by force of circumstances, as during the war period. On the average, however, it comes to those who have done the right thing at the right time."

He stated that the cost of producing commodities in this country is generally high. Although transportation facilities administered efficiently are abundantly able to carry all our commodities, the cost of transporting such commodities are high. As long as our commodities must carry these high transportation charges a brisk demand for them will not permanently exist. Fuel, another essential factor in production, although plentiful must remain high because of the enormous cost of transporting coal. Labor, the great productive hand, is not unreasonably high as compared with the rate of wages in Europe and our American standard of living. Building and construction wages are high and will perhaps remain so for a while longer. They are high because the building workers happen to have something, the contractors are willing to bid for. The owners and contractors made the market, not the workers.

"As I look ahead into the business likely to develop in the United States during the next several years I see the urgent need for greater productive effort on our part," he concluded. "Less waste, less useless operations, less time for golfing, vacationing, and joy rides, and more concentration on our jobs, is what we need more than anything else."

BOGUS $100 BILL IN CIRCULATION

Government Warns Public to Guard Against Counterfeit Notes

A clever counterfeit bill of $100 is now in circulation and is calculated to deceive all but the most wary, according to a warning received at Appleton postoffice in the Postal Bulletin from Washington, D. C. This well executed production is a $100 federal reserve note on the Bank of New York. It is printed from lithographic plates on two pieces of paper between which threads have been distributed to resemble the silk fiber. The seal and numbering of the specimen at hand—B2656981—are off color and the note has a greasy, soiled appearance suggesting that it has been artificially aged to enable the passer to work successfully. The face of the counterfeit does not stand out prominently as in the genuine, the portrait being flat, and the flat lines in the lathe work are snaky. The series represented is that of 1914 with a portrait of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Another specimen of counterfeit bill now in circulation is a $10 United States note on which there appears a buffalo head and small portraits of Lewis and Clark. It is of the series of 1901, and is printed on one piece of paper on which ink lines have been traced in imitation of the silk fiber. This note is more easily detected as counterfeit by people who handle considerable currency.

FRIENDSHIP DAYS SALE FLEISCHNER'S

Shirt-sleeve Management

THERE are no soft jobs in this Company. The men of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), from directors to the last office boy, form a shirt-sleeve organization, out to do real work.

Everybody is a laborer, from the chief executive down. Executives manage details, for in the oil business details are of major importance. In the petroleum industry costs are computed in fractions. Round figures are rare. It is saving a fraction here and a fraction there that enables the Management to show a satisfactory statement to the stockholders at the end of the year.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is thoroughly democratic. It typifies the modern method of doing business. As a trade paper recently remarked: this shirt-sleeve policy "has caused this Company to be pointed to all over the world as the most perfect business organization."

The Company's directors are executives devoting their whole time to its affairs. They have been educated largely within this organization. Their rise has been a slow step-by-step process covering many years. Every director has a deeply ingrained knowledge of the business, acquired through painstaking, arduous apprenticeship.

Such administration makes for economy and efficiency—the two qualities which most effectively guarantee satisfactory service to the consumers and satisfactory profits to the stockholders.

It has been said that the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is successful because it is big.

It might be said with greater truth, that this Company is big because it renders a great and essential service. This service has been possible because the Company is ably managed and because the organization of 29,000 men and women are loyal, enthusiastic, happy workers, giving to the business every ounce of energy and intelligence they possess.

MORE ABOUT TAXES
Governor Blaine in his open letter defending state tax revision accuses its critics of misrepresentation. In his eyes the publication of facts about the tax situation is misrepresentation. If there is misrepresentation, it is by the administration — it is by the governor himself. In the letter above referred to, published in Monday's Post-Crescent, the governor is quoted as writing:
The income taxes, for the first time in the history of the state, that are paid into the state treasury, are applied to the reduction of the real and personal property taxes on farms, homes and business. The state gets none of the income tax any more, for the state government. Heretofore the state received ten per cent of the income tax for the state government.
Whatever this paragraph may mean, its plain import is to make the people believe that none of the income tax now levied goes to the state government. Note the phrase, "The state gets none of the income tax any more, for the state government," and following this the statement, "Heretofore the state received 10 per cent of the income tax for the state government." Now, what are the facts? The facts are that this year the state gets a larger proportion of income tax than it has ever gotten before. Instead of the 10 per cent, the state got last year, it now receives 40 per cent. The municipalities receive 50 per cent, the counties 10 per cent, and the state the balance. And of course that portion going into the state treasury is applied to purposes of state government. What is the motive that prompts the statement by the governor quoted above? Our readers may judge for themselves.
Since the total income taxes paid this year will be greater and the state receives 40 per cent of the total income tax instead of 10 per cent, it is obvious that the state will have a much larger revenue from this source than previously. Yet the governor tries to make it appear the state gets nothing. It is no answer to this misrepresentation to say that some of the income taxes received by the state are used in lieu of the state property tax. The income tax is collected and spent by the state. As for reduction of real and personal property taxes, there is no such thing. The governor also is misrepresenting here. Removal of the $500 exemption and removal of the personal property offset have made reduction in personal and property taxes impossible, excepting to the wealthy person who has a large amount of real estate and little personal property. Even he will pay more when he settles his income and other tax liabilities.
Every taxpayer in the state of Wisconsin, generally speaking, who is assessed up to $5000, in many cases to $10,000, is paying more property taxes this year than he did last year. We do not have to depend upon mere assertion for the truth of this statement. Tax receipts will prove it. There will be few cities or counties in Wisconsin where rates have been materially reduced. Where they have not been reduced the increase in taxes this year will be large and will apply to every person, and all because of the recent tax legislation. No other element enters into it.
Even where there is in 1926 a lower rate, as in the city of Appleton, with a reduction of almost $5.50 per thousand, which is a big reduction, all property owners assessed up to about $4000 will pay more taxes this year than last, despite the reduction in rate. And it is due to the wonderful tax bill Mr. Blaine had enacted for the purpose of "shifting taxes from the less well-to-do to the wealthy, from property to income." On top of this increase in the taxes of the less well-to-do will be an increased cost of living, for business, which is forced to pay heavy increases in income and personal property taxes, will add the tax on to what it has to sell. On top of all is the 2 cent gasoline tax. A wonderful Godsend to the poor man!

There are some people who would believe, if Mr. Blaine said so, that black was white, that the moon was made of green cheese. Such persons do not want to do their own thinking. They prefer to let the political machine at Madison do it for them, and that is exactly what Mr. Blaine is doing today. He is trying to make a black tax law appear white. He is trying to make the people believe that six and four make eight, that higher taxes are lower taxes. And there are persons who will go to the treasurer's office and pay $10 or $100 more taxes than they did last year and still believe what the governor says is true. By some hocus-pocus process of reasoning they will say to themselves, "I paid less taxes, although my receipt shows more, because Governor Blaine said so."

JINGOISTIC BUNK
A few months ago, in fact every few months for several years back, "war with Japan" has been a certainty in the prescient eyes of our militaristic press. A few weeks ago this same press had Greece and Bulgaria locked in a deadly combat, which the impotent League of Nations was powerless to prevent. A few days ago there was in their minds no escape from war between Great Britain and Turkey because of the League's Mosul award. Today it is war with Italy. "Italy Headed for War" is the title of an erudite editorial we read in one of the newspapers clamoring for isolation and a vast navy and air force to support it.
There is a studied effort by these newspapers and by the politicians associated with them, to make the people apprehensive of war. They talk war constantly, every day in the year. If it is not this nation, it is that nation. But always they are obsessed with the certainty and the dread of war. Nothing can stop it. It is just around the corner. It is under their beds. Their imagination is filled with shot and shell. If we stir an inch outside of our shell in this country we shall become involved in all these awful wars. Part of this war hallucination is genuine, but the most of it is bunk even in the minds of those who utter it.
Its purpose is to keep the United States out of all cooperative undertakings in Europe in order to perpetuate political hatred. Its aim is to keep us out of the world court, to keep us out of the conference for the reduction of land armaments, and most of all, to keep us out of that frightful organization, the League of Nations. The League is the summum casus of their unhappiness. It is a perpetual nightmare. Awake and about they take some encouragement, but the minute they put their heads on their pillows and think in the way that only night and silence make thought, the League looms up as a hydra-headed monster about to engulf them and all America. Immediately they dress they go out in the street and yell, "War, war." It is like whistling to keep up one's courage. But we think it is losing its effect on those who hear it. It has been repeated too many times and with too much vehemence.
War is the thing that people want to stop, and they are coming to see that the way to stop it is not through proclaiming and predicting it, but through cooperation and just such measures as have been undertaken in the last few years, chiefly through European initiative, looking to international understanding and good-will. We expect to see the United States in the League of Nations some day. Events are leading us inexorably into such an organization. But that has nothing to do with the steps we are asked to take in the time that intervenes for the promotion of world peace. As Senator Lenroot well said in his Milwaukee speech, "In the closing days of 1925, the world is closer to permanent peace than ever before." It is not the isolationists, the irreconcilables, those who would keep us away from peaceful cooperation with Europe, that have made it so.

HOW'S YOUR DIASTOLIC PRESSURE?
A specialist in mental and nervous diseases but not "nervous" people writes that a correspondent whom he directed to him has lost that restlessness and fear of going into company, takes more interest in life and has less some excess weight upon treatment to correct endocrin imbalance. The specialist apparently sits up nights trying to conceive ways of destroying his own business, for he says:
There is one subject I wish you could attack in your infatigable way, and that is the matter of blood pressure. The majority of people believe that this is a disease. I find so many people disturbed and anxious simply because some one has told them that their blood pressure was too high, whereas they were suffering from some worry or mild toxemia or anxiety which, when removed, left the blood pressure normal.
There is a fine sermon for people with the blood pressure obsession. This nerve specialist is a man with a fine reputation for practical sense, and he places his educated finger on the sick spot—nervousness about blood pressure. It is laughable, if one's blood pressure is not too high, to think of an individual becoming anxious about his blood pressure and as a consequence of the anxiety, running his pressure up above bounds. Yet that is precisely how a lot of well misinformed people achieve it.
Many correspondents make the grave and costly mistake of costing a stamp or two of asking me to equip them with symptoms of this or that disease or to send them complete descriptions of given diseases, actual or assumed. N. D. is the answer which must suffice for all such unhealthful queries—nothing doing.
N. D. is the rule I follow in discussing blood pressure, too. It is no layman's business or concern to know just how high or how low the blood pressure should be. That is a technical matter which should be left entirely to the physician. The good physician generally gives the patient no specific details about the blood pressure; the wise patient is content to be told that it is all right, or that it is not all right.
People with high blood pressure obsession or anxiety neurosis rarely understand what blood pressure means. They cherish a ready-made fancy that it is a new-fashioned way of saying "too much blood" or "too high blood" or plethora, and often they do themselves a great deal of harm by regarding the frequent or habitual use of cathartic salts in the foolish attempt to "thin the blood"—a thing which salts will not do in any case, and a thing which has nothing to do with high blood pressure.
A measurement of the blood pressure is not of much significance unless both the systolic and diastolic pressures are taken or recorded. That is, it is of little value to the physician, in advising the patient, to know what the systolic pressure is unless he knows also what the diastolic pressure is.
Never mind. That is only two-thirds of it. There is still another kind of blood pressure which must be mentioned, if only to add to the chaos of the occasion. Besides systolic and diastolic pressure there is the pulse pressure—but I am happy to add that the pulse pressure is nothing serious, just the difference between systolic and diastolic pressure.
People with high diastolic pressure may ordinarily take a reasonable amount of red or dark meat. Look out for that—it is very dry humor. People with high blood pressure of any kind may take also a reasonable amount of light meats, fish, fowl, game, high, low, or Pedro. Seriously, there is no scientific ground for the notion that persons with high blood pressure may not eat meat. Only occasionally is it advisable to restrict the meat eating when the blood pressure is high, and then it is not because of the blood pressure but because of some underlying disease condition.
Next lesson, children, will bring us to the question of strain, high tension, American speed, high life, the cares and callous of business, overwork and all that neurotic stuff.

VALUED MINES BARRED TO MEN BY POISON PESTS
Gold Remains Untouched Because Insects Wage Deadly War on Intruder

From Brief Stories.
An old Mexican gold mine, all trace of which had been lost for more than 100 years, has been rediscovered in a curious manner.
It was one of the many prolific sources of treasure worked by the Spanish adventures in the days of Cortez, and had been given the name of the Cockroach mine on account of the large numbers of these insects that infested its immediate neighborhood. It was afterwards sealed up and its site forgotten.
Recently, after the lapse of more than a century a prospector in the district, noticing a rock swarming with cockroaches, remembered the story, followed the trail of the insects, and found the mine, which is again being worked.
Strangely enough, there is in Mexico another ancient mine known to only a few Indians and to one or two white prospectors, who have been lucky enough to return unscathed from the region.
This mine is situated in the mountains near Durango, and still bears trace of the operations conducted by the long dead race whose civilization was hardly less advanced than our own.
The Spaniards in their turn made attempts to raise the precious ore, specimens of which have proved the mine to be the richest of its kind in the world, but the chief obstacle in the way of further development is a vast horde of death-dealing scorpions which swarm in the workings.
So large and venomous are these specimens that many lives have been lost by the numerous exploring parties who have tried to reopen the mine and although organized measures have been taken to deal with the pests there have been no apparent diminution in their number. Thus a vast treasure will probably lie untouched for all times.
In South America, near the source of the Quibio river, deep in the fastnesses of the Andes mountains, there is another ancient mine, similarly guarded by the terrible tarantula spider, which has denied mankind access to the mine for generations.
The tarantula is a fierce and horrible insect, whose bite means death to a human being, since there is no known antidote for its poison. According to native legends, the ancient Peruvians, and later the Spaniards when working this mine, employed special battalions to wage warfare against the spiders, with orders to keep the immediate surroundings of the working clear of the pests, regardless of the number of lives lost in the undertaking.

TWO FLOORS OF GOOD THINGS TO WEAR

Adventures In The Library
By ARNOLD MULDER

SHERWOOD ANDERSON AND HIS FATHER
Sherwood Anderson, has coined much literary gold out of his father who seems to have been a shiftless and easy-going ne'er-do-well. It is just possible that but for the senior Anderson's shiftlessness the son would not have attained high rank as a writer.
The older man's shiftlessness must have been highly unpleasant to the future novelist when he was a boy. It meant that he and his brothers and sisters had to go in rags much of the time. And as for food, Anderson humorously admits the charge that his work is like that of the Russians and he accounts for it not because he has read the Russians but because as a boy he was forced to live chiefly on cabbage soup and that, he says he has discovered, is also the chief diet of the Russian writers.
The younger Anderson's first reaction to his father's shortcomings as a provider was disgust. It could hardly have been otherwise. He and the rest of his family had to live in poverty when other boys of his age were in easy circumstances. No wonder the future writer felt that he never wanted to be like his parent.
This reaction showed itself in Anderson's first novel, called "Windy McPherson's Son." Windy McPherson of that story is only a thinly disguised portrait of the writer's father. McPherson, like the older Anderson, was a veteran of the Civil war and he indulged in bombastic narratives of his prowess as a soldier in the sixties. Instead of going out and hustling for a living for himself and his family, he spent most of his time talking about the war and indulging himself in his shiftlessness.
The boy in the story, the son of Windy McPherson, early makes up his mind that whatever he does or does not do, he will never, never be like his bombastic and worthless father. That thought is the motive power that drives him out to conquer the world for himself. It makes of him a sort of boy "go-getter" and it determines his life.
That is very probably how Sherwood Anderson felt about it when he wrote the book. But when he grew older grew more charitably toward his parent also. One of the most delightful studies of a ne'er-do-well I have ever read may be found in Anderson's autobiographical work, "A Story Teller's Story." In that book he undertakes to make a psychograph of his father, and instead of condemning the older man unreservedly, he tries to understand him. He portrays him with great humor and with a shrewd insight into his point of view that is one can hardly help feeling, much nearer the truth than the harsher picture in "Windy McPherson's Son."
OUT OF HIS TIME
According to this later view, the elder Anderson was merely a man born out of his time. He was a story teller who was unfortunate enough to tell his audience, in the days of the troubadours, he would not have been without honor or bread. Had he lived today, with the movie clamoring for just such impossible stories as he was always bursting with, he might have turned out a millionaire.
But he lived at a time when America had no time to honor or reward the story teller. America was busy conquering a continent. The needs of the industrial age were such that the impulse to art was regarded, on the frontier in Ohio at least where the Anderson family lived, with hostility. But the elder Anderson did not have it in him to adapt himself to the industrial generation, while the industrial generation had no use for anything the story teller might have had to offer.
Under cover of painting a portrait of his father Sherwood Anderson delivers a shrewd criticism of America's preoccupation with material things. It is all the more effective because it is not direct. In the end Anderson identifies himself with his father, declaring he is exactly like the older man and merely more lucky because, living a generation later. But he understands clearly that to the large mass of Americans he seems as useless as his father did to his neighbors.

The Question Box
General Robert E. Lee said: "The thorough education of people is the most efficacious means of promoting the prosperity of the Nation." These words of the distinguished Southern General are none the less true now than when he spoke them. Q. What was West Virginia called before it was separated from Virginia?
J. M.
A. It was known as the Trans-Alleghany Region of Virginia and was admitted to the Union as a separate State June 20, 1863.
Q. How did the Helvetii dress?
M. B.
A. We find no definite information as to their dress. Probably they wore trousers, tunics, and skins as many of the early inhabitants of Gaul and Germany did.
Q. Where is the land of the cakes?
M. D. R.
A. This is a title applied to Scotland, on account of the buns, scones, and oatmeal cakes which with porridge, from the principal food of the country people. The epithet was prevalent in the eighteenth century.
Q. Please settle an argument. Which are the drumsticks, of a fowl, the legs or wings?
W. W.
A. The drumstick is the lower joint of the leg of a dressed fowl.

33 Members Of Class Of '16 At Party

Thirty-three members of the class of 1916 of Appleton high school attended the second annual reunion banquet which was held Tuesday night at Hotel Northern. About one half of those attending were from out of the city. The banquet was served at 6:30 after which each member told of what he had accomplished during the past ten years. HAND GRENADE INVENTOR DIES

Man Honored by French
Government Is Dead in Wisconsin Village

Stoughton, Wis.—Nells W. Aasen, inventor of the hand grenade used extensively in the World war, died Monday night at his home in Stoughton after a few months' illness with tuberculosis. He was 48.

At the outbreak of the World war, the French government employed the inventor to organize factories for the manufacture of grenades. He put in operation 14 factories employing 25,000 men and women.

Mr. Aasen came to America from Norway in the fall of 1924, moving to Stoughton, where he organized the Aasen Corporation of America for the purpose of manufacturing the Aasen sleep-maker and other smaller inventions. Due to the fact there was no apparent demand for the "insomnia mask," as it was first termed, the corporation has been inactive for the last year.

The failure of the sleep-maker, which was invented to cure Mr. Aasen's own insomnia and succeeded, preyed upon his mind and induced a nervous breakdown, which preceded his tuberculosis. He had been working on two inventions, one of which, a water motor, he had sold to a Florida company.

Mr. Aasen was a chevalier of the legion of honor and a titular colonel in the French army. Among his other large inventions are the French motor, deep sea bomb and airplane bomb. He was spoken of in his native country as the "Edison of Norway."

Mrs. Aasen, before her marriage, was a physician in Denmark. After she was married to the inventor, they made their home in Christiania, Norway, where her husband soon attracted international notice. One child and the wife survive. The body will be cremated.

THEFT GANG'S LEADER OFF TO PRISON AGAIN

Superior —(P)— Charles Bennett, 35, alias C. L. Wheeler, alias Harold Wheeler, who has served prison terms in four states, is on his way to prison again for not more than 15 years, having pleaded guilty in superior court here to a part as a leader in a series of holdups and robberies in Superior recently.

Bennett was arrested last week by police with three others members of his gang, all of whom have confessed, police say. Bennett had, previous to his appearance here, been sentenced to a total of 35 years in prison in Missouri, Kansas, Washington and Oklahoma. His last commitment was from Greene county, Mo., in 1920, for four years for grand larceny. He is wanted by Missouri authorities, police say.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Kiely and family of Green Bay, have been spending the holidays with the latter's mother, Mrs. John Karczewski.

83 PAY TAXES ON FIRST DAY OF COLLECTION TO HIGH SCHOOL

G. McCabe Is First to Pay Taxes This Year — Total Taxes Higher Than Last Year

Kaukauna—G. McCabe was the first person in Kaukauna to pay his taxes for 1926. Up to noon Tuesday 83 people had paid their taxes, and, according to Albert Lindstrom, city treasurer, this figure is below last year's mark and the payments last year were considered very low. Kaukauna must pay $287,017.32 in taxes for the next year and the city treasurer must have this money by Feb. 1. All people who do not pay their taxes before that time are assessed an extra 2 per cent, unless the city council extends the time limit for payment of taxes.

The city treasurer's office is open from 9 to 12 and from 1:30 to 4 o'clock. All persons are requested to take their tax receipts from last year. Taxes this year are a little higher than last year although the rate per hundred last year was $3.0 and the rate per hundred this year is only $3.30. The difference is caused by the repeal of the homestead exemption law, which last year took $00 from the assessed value of property. This year the $500 is put back on but the rate is lowered.

Dog taxes also are due at this time and the city treasurer requests those people who must pay this tax to do so without fail and save a lot of trouble. The tax on dogs is $1 for males and $2 for females.

BIG INCREASE IN CHRISTMAS MAIL

Postoffice Receipts Increased Between $400 and $500, Postmaster Says

Kaukauna — Kaukauna postoffice Christmas business was from $400 to $500 greater this year than last according to Postmaster A. R. Mill. The average number of pieces of first class mail per day for the four days before Christmas was about 12,000 and the number of parcels averaged 375 per day.

All mail that came to the office up to noon on the day before Christmas was delivered and as a result there was very little mail left in the office over Christmas day. Just the few cards and parcels that came in at 3 o'clock in the afternoon remained undelivered.

"More people heeded the 'Mail Early' slogan this year than ever before," said Postmaster Mill, "and as a reward their mail was delivered on time. We received some Christmas mail on the Saturday following Christmas, indicating that not everyone was moved by the 'Mail Early' campaign."

One thing that was decidedly in favor of the mailmen this year was the comparatively mild weather.

The falling off in the number of parcels and packages that were sent to foreign countries, especially to Germany this year was decidedly noticeable according to Mr. Mill.

REOPEN SWIMMING POOL AFTER FIRST OF YEAR

Kaukauna—Workmen have nearly finished applying the first coat of paint on the tank of the swimming pool at the Municipal building and it is expected that the pool will be opened to the public after the first of the year. The pool will be given two coats of paint.

The showers and the dressing rooms of the pool will not be painted at this time as they had been painted just a year ago.

HOT TIME IS HAD BY ALL AT FIRE FIGHTERS' BALL

Public Answers "Third Alarm" and Limbers Up to Old Dance Tunes

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—The fire department answered its third call of the day Monday evening, when an alarm was sounded promptly at 8 o'clock. Fire trucks came tearing up the street with sirens screeching and bells ringing, and the firemen's rubber coat tails trailing in the rear of the flying vehicles, which slewed around the corner of Pearl-st and Wolf River-ave, and came to a stop in front of Knights of Columbus hall. A bright red glare, accompanied with plenty of smoke, issued forth from the top of the building. Residents of the city came rushing to the scene from all directions, shivering in the chilly night air, but game to the finish when a good fire was in prospect.

Then "heep big" Chief Rogers stood up from his perch on a truck and announced in gleeful tones, that the firemen's annual ball was about to take place, and if everybody would kindly step inside, the dance would begin at once. Everybody did (the red flash powder on the top of the building was left to burn out) and the fracas was under way.

And such a time! Hoier 8-piece orchestra simply outdid itself, and everybody danced! The grandpas and grandmas flocked off the Charleston with the fleetest of the high school kids and the kids vied with their elders in the circular twosteps, robbers' waltzes and oldfashioned quadrilles.

The hall was all decked out with fire hose, chemical cans and other fire fighting apparatus, and numerous placards bearing inscriptions giving advice on fire prevention, were posted on the walls.

The siren sounded the end of the fire ball at 2 o'clock in the morning, the firemen piled back onto their trucks, and a tired but happy crowd, the largest which has ever filled the hall, went home, all agreeing that the firemen's ball had been the great success of the season.

The members of the fire department appreciated the public's support of the event.

WAUPACA-CO IS LOOKING TOWARD ALL YEAR ROADS

Main Highways Now Are Serving Motor Traffic Despite Snowfall

Waupaca—The Main state highways in Waupaca-co are reported to be in good condition for auto traffic. Highway No. 18 from Stevens Point through Waupaca to Fremont on the county line is in better shape than at any time since the snowfall. Previously this route had been somewhat rough and rutted. Recent snow has remedied the condition and a smooth riding surface now prevails. North and south roads on main highways, while still open are not as good as those running east and west. There seems to be a tendency of nature to keep the modern type of roads free from snow, a big asset to this county where no funds are available for the purpose of clearing and keeping highways open at this time of the year.

General comment is for open roads the year around. This will probably be the last year therefore, in which no effort is made either by the county or state highway commission to devise some means to insure passable roads where most needed. The idea of costly concrete highways being in such condition several months of the year that their use is negligible has aroused public opinion to the extent that serious thought is being given to a plan for keeping them open.

LODGE ELECTS
The local lodge of the Equitable Fraternal union, in semi-monthly meeting at Modern Woodman hall Monday night, elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Merlin Nijhuis; vice president, Mrs. Fred Davis; adviser, Mrs. Arthur Holmes; secretary, Mrs. Anna D. Nelson; treasurer, Peter Holst; warden, Arthur Wagner; outer guard, Charles Nelson; inner guard, Harold Axtell; pianist, Gertrude Knudsen; trustee, John Johnson. A good attendance was reported and a supper was enjoyed.

Marriage licenses issued for Waupaca-co during the week ending Dec. 29 were: Otto E. Much, Union, and Sophia Koeller, Matteson; William A. Elshop, Chicago, and Mamie E. Smith, Dayton.

Tuesday at noon the Womens Relief corps entertained members of the Grand Army of the Republic and Sons of Veterans at a dinner in Modern Woodman hall.

HEATING PLANT IN BANK BREAKS DOWN

Chiltonville—With temperature 16 degrees below zero Saturday morning, the Dairymans State bank was in a dilemma for a time when the heating plant was disabled. It was found that two sections had burst from excessive heat and too low a water mark the day before. A telegraph order for repairs was immediately dispatched but the bank had to resort to an old-time airtight heater for the time being.

Otto and Arnold Spearbraker, who are employed in the Nash plant, Milwaukee, are home for the holidays.

C. R. Kant made a business trip to Tilleda last week.

Lavina Kasboske, employed at Milwaukee spent Christmas at home.

John Buehrens departed for his home at Dorchester to spend the holidays.

Miss Elsie Tanty, New London, has been vacationing over Christmas with her parents. She returned to her duties Monday morning at Cristy's.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mees and children, Allen and Donald of Marlon, spent Christmas with the Charles Mees family.

Frank Malik, Milladore, visited at the home of his brother, J. E. Malik and family.

Charles Mees is on the sick list.

Misses Annie, Ada and Lois Anthes, the former employed at Newark, N. J., the latter two at Chicago, are home to spend the holidays with their parents.

TORNADO POLICY HOLDERS TO GET LARGE REFUNDS

$400,000 Is to Be Repaid
Policy Holders Following
Court Decision

Madison—(AP)—Holders of tornado insurance policies in Wisconsin will be repaid approximately four hundred thousand dollars, as a result of the decision in the rule book case of Stanley Smith, state insurance commissioner, announced Wednesday.

The money to be refunded represents overcharges during the past three years. Farm tornado rates are not involved. Circuit Judge E. Ray Stevens upheld the power of the commissioner of insurance to review and regulate rates.

"Companies and the rating bureau, of which insurance companies are members," should carefully read the opinion of the court in this case and profit by the reference to the "surprising lack of information presented as to the facts that should be the basis for the making of a reasonable basis of rate," Commissioner Smith stated.

"This same lack of information is too often presented when the question of an increase in rate is to be passed upon by the commissioner, and, as in this case, it developed upon the department to make its own investigation to arrive at a just determination."

"Companies are entitled to a reasonable profit; it is not in the interest of the insuring public that any class or kind of insurance should be conducted at a loss, but it is essential, and in the interest of the insurance public, that when a request for an increase in rate is made, that there be also presented detailed and conclusive evidence that such increase is warranted by fact."

"My insistence for an early determination of the matter was not only to save the insurers the continuing additional outlay, but also to save the companies and their agents the additional labor and annoyance that a refund entails. This case, too, is another illustration of the need for revision of our insurance laws so that the service of the insurance department may be exercised in a more prompt and effective manner, with less resort to the courts for interpretation of the administrative powers of the commissioner."

COMMUNITY BUILDER WILL LECTURE HERE

T. Dinsmore Upton, Community Builder and "Big Brother of 100,000 Kids" will lecture on some phase of "Re-creation Through Recreation" at Lawrence Conservatory, on Tuesday evening, January 5. His lecture is sponsored by Appleton Womans club.

Mr. Upton is said to be the most widely known authority on community upbuilding and children's problems anywhere. Playgrounds founded in three nations and on two continents are a monument to his work. Skating rinks and toboggan slides all through the north country are evidences of his visits there. Community houses in twenty towns testify to his ability.

From the days when "Dinzie" Upton was one of the gang in the back yards of Muskegon, Mich., he has been intensely interested in the welfare of the boy. Following his college work he became director of athletics at Grand Rapids, remaining there nearly five years. When war training for 30,000 men, then he entered the aviation service and was commissioned in that branch. Later he was sent into the northwest to do some special lecturing as government labor mediator.

WISCONSIN WEATHER
Somewhat unsettled tonight and Thursday; not quite so cold.

WEATHER CONDITIONS
The high pressure over the eastern portion of the country is now dividing, one section covering the east, with low temperatures, and the other overlying the western plains. Temperatures over the northern states are moderating slowly. The pressure is slightly lower in the far north, which favors a continuation of the south wind and moderated temperatures. Cloudiness is expected to increase in this section as this lower pressure spreads southeastward and develops.

ADVENTURE OF UNHAPPY WIFE MOVIE THEME

The grim humor of Time is the motivation of "Time, the Conqueror," Robert Z. Leonard's latest creation achievement for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, coming to the Elite Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday. The story is that of an unhappy wife whose erotic affairs bring about her husband's death; and due partially to passage of time and her own self, she is shelled by her former admirers.

An excellent cast has been assembled for the picture including Lew Cody, Mae Busch, Gertrude Olmstead, Cressida Hale, Roy Stewart, Paulette Goddard and others. The film is based on a story by Kate Jordan and was adapted to the screen by Frederic and Fanny Hatton. Oliver Marsh was the photographer.

"TIDES OF PASSION" CHOCKFULL OF ACTION

Thrills, with a capital "T," are said to abound in "Tides of Passion," the Vitaphone attraction which the New Bijou Theatre has booked for today and Thursday. The most striking highlight is the episode in which two girls find themselves marooned on a narrow ledge in the ocean, the surging waves and a lashing wind threatening them with death momentarily.

This realistic scene comes as the climax of a story that is said to abound in action. Naturally, a picture so replete with movement has its full share of suspense-breeding situations, while throughout there unrolls a romance full of heart interest.

Mae Marsh is the star of this J. Stuart Blackton production, with Ben Hendricks, Laska Winter, Earl Schenck, Ivor McFadden and Thomas Mills in the supporting cast.

SECRETARY

For the first time in 100 years a speaker of the House of Representatives has a woman for a secretary. The speaker's secretary, be it known, has to be a person of uncommon tact, diplomacy and executive ability. Miss Mildred Reeves (above), is Nicholas Longworth's "right hand man." She has as important a job as any woman in Washington.

SNOW AND COLD BLOCK TRAFFIC AT FOREST JCT.

Students and Other Absent
People Spend Christmas
Vacations at Home

Forest Junction — The accumulated snow, together with the first snow of the season, was the occasion for a number of minor mishaps here.

With thermometers registering in the neighborhood of 20 below zero, frozen ears, frozen water pipes, frozen batteries, and automobiles suffering from improper lubrication were variously reported during the cold wave which set in Friday evening.

Emil Freitag, janitor at a church here, suffered an injury while scraping snow from a sidewalk and has been confined to his home for the last few days.

Though the snowfall has not been extremely heavy, continued drifting has tended to block the roads, and automobile travel has been considerably interfered with, necessitating detours into fields at places for passage. A brisk wind has been prevailing from the west, and the roads leading north and south are the ones most seriously affected. Motorbuses, plying between Manitowoc and Appleton were delayed on Sunday morning in drifts on highway 57 not far from the junction with highway 18. Numerous churchgoers were also delayed in the drifts on Sunday morning, and the Rev. H. C. Diekvoos with his family of Denmark, who came here for a visit with relatives, were stopped twice with their sedan on Sunday afternoon.

PERSONALS
Miss Lucille Huebner, who has been taking treatment at St. Mary hospital at Green Bay, has returned home. Miss Ida Diekvoos of Eau Claire, who is spending her holiday vacation at her home here, accompanied the Rev. H. C. Diekvoos and family to Denmark on Monday.

Herbert Heisler and family of Seymour were weekend visitors here with relatives.

Dr. R. H. Kloehn of Brillion, en route to New Holstein, made a short call here on Saturday.

Mrs. Elmer Schwoyer of Kiel returned home on Monday morning after visiting here over Sunday. She was accompanied by her sister, Miss Mayme Kloehn, who was returning to her employment at Milwaukee after a holiday vacation spent at her home here.

The John Trautmann family of Appleton were among the guests at the John Seybold home on Christmas day.

Mrs. H. A. Franke and daughter Rachel left on Monday morning for a week's visit with relatives and friends at Racine.

Samuel Huebner, student of Northwestern college at Naperville, Ill., is spending the holiday recess at his home here.

Mrs. Paulina Knespel is visiting with relatives at Cedar Grove and Kohler.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hemmingsway and family, and the Leon Peterson family of Madison were weekend guests at the Fred Seybold home. Fred Seybold, Jr., who is attending the University at Madison, is also at home for a short visit.

OUTLINE COURSE FOR HOME BUILDERS CLASS

George L. Smith of the firm of Smith and Brandt, architects, is preparing a new course for the 1926 home builders course of the Y. M. C. A., which will get underway soon. The course will be modeled after those of the last few years which were so successful and will be ready within a few days, according to Mr. Smith. New material will be added this year so that it will not only be partly beginners course, but also an advanced course for those who have taken the course for the last few years.

BLACKENS MAN'S EYE AND PAYS FINE OF $10

George Vander Heiden of Kaukauna paid a fine of $10 and costs following his plea of guilty in municipal court Wednesday morning to a charge of assault and battery. John H. Timmers, also of Kaukauna, the complainant, charged that his eye was blackened by Vander Heiden.

SAMOA BABIES THRIVE ON MILK OF COCOANUTS

Pago Pago (AP)—Young cocoanuts for young Samoans is the advice of the United States government to South Sea mothers unable to secure milk for their babies.

The use of cocoanuts for babies is still an experiment, but so far is considered successful. Each child is given the meat of four very young cocoanuts daily, together with all the coconut milk he can drink.

Child welfare work in Samoa has been organized so that all villages in American Samoa are visited at least once every two weeks. In each village a committee of women has been appointed. Babies are taken to the weekly meetings of this committee. When a baby increases in weight the mother is praised publicly; when it loses, the mother is called to account.

CLINTONVILLE BRIDGE CLUB HOLDS MEETING

(Special to Post-Crescent)

Clintonville—Mrs. W. J. Gould, Mrs. Knister and Mrs. Olk entertained the Bridge club Tuesday afternoon at Columbia hotel. Five o'clock lunch was served.

J. L. Kitchen of Neenah, who is supervising erection of a substitution for Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power Co. at Clintonville, spent the holidays with his family at Neenah.

Miss Lula F. Finnegan of Gillett, spent Christmas and the weekend with her sister, Mrs. F. C. Schwalbach and family.

Mrs. C. S. Thomson spent Wednesday afternoon of last week at New London.

Mrs. Arthur Randall spent Christmas with her little daughter and other relatives at Marion.

Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Murphy had as dinner guests Sunday, Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Levine and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Aldek and son Robert of Clintonville and Frank Malek of Milladore.

Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Murphy and daughter Mary Louise, autored to Shawano Saturday and visited with the doctor's brother County Agent A. C. Murphy and family.

EVENING HOUR FOR TAXPAYING

Bachman Will Keep Office
Open Mondays—Revenues
Are Coming in

Those who cannot leave their employment during the day to pay their taxes will have an opportunity to do so in the evening. F. E. Bachman, city treasurer, announces that his office will be open each Monday evening during January between 7 and 8 o'clock.

Collections are growing since the opening on Monday. Tuesday's total was about $19,000 as compared to $15,000 on Monday.

Mr. Bachman finds that taxpayers are cooperating readily with the clerical force by bringing their tax receipt of a year ago so that the new account is easy to locate in the racks. The public understands the new law quite well also, as there seems to be no misunderstanding over the fact that both personal property and income taxes must be paid this time instead of just one of these.

Quite a number of dog owners have called to pay the 1925 license. These must be met during the month of January, according to the state law.

PREPARES REPORT OF HIGHWAY CONDITIONS

A weekly report on road conditions will be submitted to the state highway office by A. C. Brunschwitz, county highway commissioner, until next spring. All county highway commissioners in the state have been asked to submit similar reports.

The report will include information on all trunk highways that are open, all that are closed or blocked, and all parts of highways that are either blocked or difficult of travel. The report will be sent in on a specially prepared postcard.

A general report on trunk highways throughout the state will then be submitted by the state department for the benefit of tourists.

BUILD RINK AT ROOSEVELT H. S.

Prompt Snow Removal at Recreation Centers Promised
This Winter

Work was to be begun Wednesday afternoon by a crew in charge of R. F. Hackworthy, street commissioner, on a skating rink at Roosevelt junior high school for use of the pupils and for residents of the Sixth ward. If the weather is cold and fair it will be ready for use in a few days.

This ward was practically the only one without a rink, and there has been a clamor on the part of the school pupils for one. Conditions were not satisfactory for the construction earlier but now that there is snow on the ground an attempt will be made to build the banks. A grader will be put to use to work the snow outward in a circular manner until a big expanse is cleared. A preliminary flooding then will be given to flatten the grass to the ground and the skating ice will be built up.

Mr. Hackworthy promises that the rinks will be cleared of snow after storms as promptly as possible. The moment the streets are opened graders will be assigned to the rinks to scrape the ice.

WOULD CHANGE BYLAWS OF LOAN ASSOCIATION

Bylaws of the Appleton Building and Loan association will be altered in several particulars if a series of new resolutions drafted by directors of the association at a meeting Tuesday evening at the office of George H. Beckley, secretary, are adopted by the stockholders at their annual meeting Jan. 12. A change in bylaws is made necessary by recent state legislation affecting building and loan associations.

INSURANCE COMPANIES END YEAR'S BUSINESS

O. P. Schlager, president of the Hardware Dealers Mutual Fire Insurance Co. and of the Hardware Mutual Casualty Co. is at Stevens Point, the home office of both concerns concluding business affairs for the year 1925. Both companies have the same offices, and are housed in the same building.

EXTENSION EQUIPMENT IS MOVED FROM OSHKOSH

Office equipment of division No. 2 of the University of Wisconsin extension division arrived here Wednesday morning from Oshkosh and is being installed in room 229 of the Insurance bldg. The branch is being moved from Oshkosh to Appleton because of a greater demand for it here. The Appleton location will be opened for business on Jan. 1.

Hi-Y Club Meeting

A regular discussion and routine business will occupy the time for members of the Hi-Y club at their regular meeting Wednesday evening at the Y. M. C. A. Several important matters will be transacted and a round-table session and a discussion on "The Making of a Real Man—A Clean Life," will conclude the meeting.

Y. M. C. A. DIRECTORS REVIEW WORK OF YEAR

A review of the 1925 association budget and the preparation of the 1926 budget will be the most important business of the board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. at a meeting at the association building at 1:30 Thursday afternoon. Reports of the employed officers for December will be read and several minor matters will be taken care of.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Wooley will return to their home in LaCrosse Thursday afternoon after spending the holidays with Mrs. Wooley's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schweitzer.

Stanley Lowe returned to Milwaukee after spending the holidays at the home of his aunt, Mrs. John Tracey.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Christopher and daughter Shirley and son Wayne of Sceptre, Saskatchewan, Canada, arrived in Appleton Christmas eve to spend a few months with Mrs. Christopher's father, John A. Hilger of Greenville. After their visit there they will spend some time with Mr. Christopher's father at Eagle Grove, Iowa and relatives at Des Moines and Fort Dodge, Iowa.

Miss Francis Heindel of Marshfield, a student nurse at Michael Reese hospital at Chicago arrived in Appleton Tuesday to spend New Years with friends here. She is a guest at the home of Miss Margaret Rammer, 40 N. Sherman.

William Frank McGowan went to Milwaukee Wednesday on business. W. M. Basing is visiting his mother at Green Lake.

Mrs. William Van Denzen of North Kaukauna was taken to St. Elizabeth hospital where she will submit to an operation Thursday morning. Mrs. Van Denzen was formerly Miss Irene Pauli of Appleton.

Mrs. H. E. Printup of Milwaukee returned home Tuesday after spending the holidays with relatives and friends in Appleton.

FIREMEN SHIVER WHEN FURNACE BREAKS DOWN

It was a cold day Wednesday for members of the Appleton police and fire department. Devious ways and means of keeping warm were introduced at both stations but the temperature just would rise to that point where shivers cease to exist. Electric heaters were brought into use and coats were kept on throughout the day, and still the city's police officers and fire fighters continued to freeze.

The cause of all this discomfort was the furnace, which broke down during the coldest spell this winter. The fire was allowed to go out Wednesday morning, so that furnace men could remedy the trouble. They were working on it throughout the day, but had promised to have the furnace ready for duty again Wednesday evening.

QUALITY GRANDS

FOSTER & CO.

The Foster Grand combines the essentials of Tone, Action and Durability, and yet is moderately priced, only $725. — This low price is made possible on account of large production in Grands exclusively.

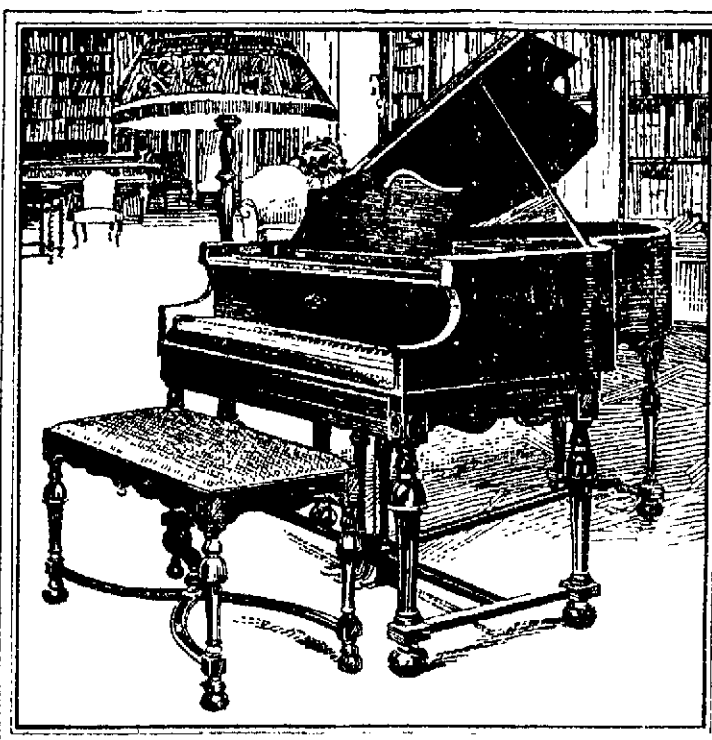

Foster & Co. is a division of the American Piano Company and this is our additional advantage—insuring quality materials in its construction.

Quality considered—this Grand would be valued at $1000 or more.

If you have a piano to trade in, phone 622 and we will call and give you its value.

THE AMPICO

Chickering

WILLIAM AND MARY MODII
Showing the delightful combination of English and Dutch lines that is characteristic of that period.

Keep the young folks at home

Right at home you can give your young people the best dance music in the world. Vincent Lopez himself—or a dozen others—will play for them!

When you have an Ampico in your home, a lot of the lure of going out is over.

Glorious rhythm that snaps even the old folks out of their chairs. Irresistible jazz that brings the neighbors in and makes your home a meeting-place for all. This great happiness is yours when you have the Ampico.

Then when your mood is more serious, such famous masters as Rachmaninoff, Lhévinne, Schnitzer, Phillip Gordon, and many others will play to you. And so wonderfully does the Ampico re-enact their interpretations of the most glorious music written for the piano, that you cannot detect a shade of difference when you hear them in person on the concert stage.

The Ampico may be had in the Chickering, which for over a hundred years has been singing its way into the heart of each successive generation. A piano that is justly famous for its supreme artistic eloquence.

The Ampico may also be heard at our store in other fine pianos at lower prices, including the Haines Bros. and the Marshall & Wendell.

Generous allowance for your own piano and agreeable terms for remaining payments may be arranged. Prices range from $985 to $5000. A foot-power model at $795.

Easier Way To Clean Your Silver

One of the most tedious of all household tasks is the silver cleaning at least with the old fashioned method it used to be very irksome. When a polish was applied to each piece of silver with a cloth, then rubbed off and finally the silver washed and wiped dry it took several hours' time and a great deal of energy.

Now the whole process takes about as long as just the washing used to consume.

This new method of cleaning silver is very simple. The necessary equipment consists of an aluminum kettle or a piece of aluminum in an enamel kettle. An aluminum pie pan in the bottom of a kettle will serve the purpose. It is necessary to have each piece of silver touch the metal, so a whole kettle of aluminum really is the most satisfactory, inasmuch as more silver can be cleaned at a time.

Fill the kettle half full of water, pour in some chipped soap, enough to make a very light suds. Add the silver pieces and boil for about five minutes.

Some people like to add a little soda and salt, about a teaspoon of each, to the suds.

Remove the silver to a rinsing bath of clear hot water, dry it and polish with a soft cloth.

The only kind of silver which cannot be cleaned by this method is that which is oxidized or decorated with a gray or black oxidized design. Any other kind, plated or sterling, can be made as bright and shiny as by the old powder polishing method.

GLASS WINDOWS MARK ORIGIN OF LACE CURTAINS

About two or three centuries ago when some bright soul perfected the glass-making process to such a point that clear, transparent window panes were a possibility great consternation reigned among the housewives. For were not their homes laid open to public gaze, so that everyone could look in and see everything that was going on?

Up to this time there had, of course, been glass window panes, but they were so badly made or so heavily leaded and stained that they were practically opaque, and no veiling of the windows was necessary to keep out the glances of the curious. It soon became apparent that interior decoration would have to be developed along some entirely new line if the family was to have any privacy at all.

WHEN CURTAINS CAME

And so it was that curtains came into being. The first ones were heavy affairs, heavy plush and velvet, that not only excluded the glances of the passerby, but also kept out the light as well. Gradually people began to realize that there was really little use of having windows at all if you were going to cover them completely with drapery, and thus in turn the glass curtain came into existence.

At first it was only the rich who could afford a lace curtain, for in those days the only lace in existence was hand made. These first ones were very different from our modern conception of the lace curtain, for instead of hanging gracefully in soft folds from one rod above, they were made in panels, stretched tight and tacked to all four sides of the window frames.

HEAVY DESIGNS

To the housewife who is used to veiling her windows with a wide-meshed net or a perfectly plain flit these first curtains would doubtless appear very inartistic despite the fact that they were hand made. The designs were very heavy—often in high relief—and there was scarcely an inch of the curtain that was not decorated.

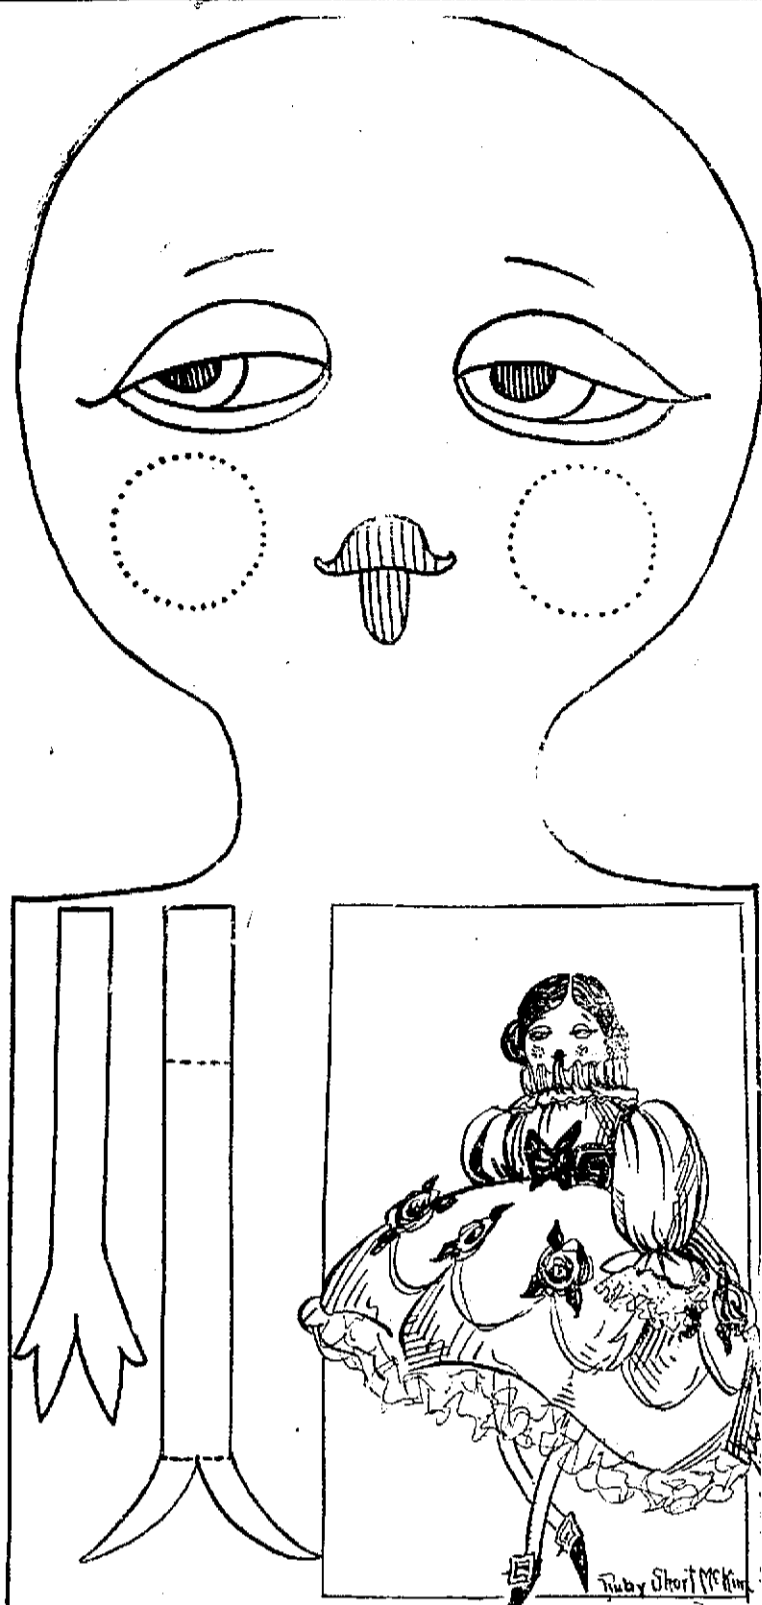

With the advent of machinery, lace curtains were put within the reach of the middle class. And then followed the terrible atrocities of the Victorian era when lace veils and flowers in intricate patterns wreathed grotesquely over the panes and spoiled the views from within and without.

The last decade, fortunately, has witnessed the fall of the Victorian type of decoration, and the curtains of our grandmothers are with us no more. The lace curtain of today is vastly different and infinitely more artistic. Color is one of its most recent innovations. Overdone nets with threads of green or brown running through, black nets with the figures in gold, creamy colonials flecked with blue, pink or yellow, lace sprinkled with Nottingham lace and starched serim.—New York Sun.

SOPHISTICATED DOLL MAKES SPLENDID SOFA PILLOW

BY RUBY SHORR McKIM
No collection of modern dolls or of sofa pillows either for that matter, is complete without a dream-eyed, long-limbed, willowy lady doll, dressed in some period costume or ultra smart mode of the moment. The body, arms and legs are very simply contrived and here is a pattern of the face all ready to trace through carbon paper to ivory paper to ivory satin, cut just a seam larger all around than the pattern here given.

Use the same for arms, but the legs may be of anything to match the costume or piece first to form shoe or hooley lines. The face may be painted or embroidered. The eyelid lines, except the lashes, are blue, lips curving, of course, and cheeks a painted circle. Hair may be any color, purple or green are prime favorites. Just so it harmonizes with the dress. The wig is made from heavy silk floss, about five skeins, backstitched to make a firm center part and coiled and sewed into "discs" as shown in the small sketch.

When each part is finished and stuffed, sew together with toes out and thumbs in and proceed to dress as lavishly as your imagination can combine changeable taffeta, gold lace, pom-poms and paste jewels!

Household Hints

BUY QUALITY
In buying fruits or vegetables, do not be deceived into buying inferior quality because the price is low. In most cases the waste amounts to more than the saving in first cost.

AVOID CLASHING
Care should be taken, in planning menus, to avoid combinations of colors or combinations of flavors which do not harmonize.

STRAIN ON WAIST
When hanging clothing to dry, let the strain of the weight come on the waist (hangers, not the wall). This is especially important with table and bed linens.

TONGUE FOR SUEET
Use tongue in place of suet in mince pies. The tongue, while rich in fat, does not become "fallow" when cold, and makes cold mince pie as good as when hot.

PINEAPPLE CREAM PUDDING

One cup grated canned pineapple, 1 lemon, 1-2 cup sugar, few grains salt, 2 eggs, 1-2 tablespoons granulated gelatin, 1-2 cup whipping cream, 2 tablespoons powdered sugar. Beat yolks of eggs slightly. Add granulated sugar, grated rind and juice of lemon. Add salt and cook over hot water, stirring constantly until mixture thickens. Remove from heat and add gelatin soaked for five minutes in 5 tablespoons cold water. Add pineapple and let stand until mixture begins to jelly. Fold in whites of eggs beaten until stiff and dry and cream whipped until firm with powdered sugar. Turn into a mold dipped in cold water and let stand on ice until chilled and firm. COLD WEATHER BRINGS OUT RUSSIAN BOOT

Russian boots are in great demand in London. During the last month more than 1,400 pairs have been sold by one shop alone, which cannot obtain supplies quickly enough to meet the demands of its customers.

Fashion has played a merry tune, and women are dancing to it—through Bond-st. to the city, through the Strand, cityward, and from suburb to suburb, all shod in the neatest of neat top-boots.

"The reason for the sudden popularity of Russian boots is really easy to find," said the manager of a large shop to a Daily Express representative.

"The boots can be bought at all kinds of prices. Of course those of suede or of kid, with fur-trimmed tops, or hand-sewn soles are the most expensive.

"The boots have come to stay," said the manager of this shop. "Even when the dry weather comes women will appreciate the warmth and comfort of them."

Russian boots do not vary much in type among these boots commonly bought. Quite plain boots are obviously the favorites. There are three styles of fastenings at the top: one is by a silk lace which gathers the top of the boot to fit the leg; one is by an elastic garter; the other is by an adjustable strap. All the fastenings are hidden within the boot.

Will Russian boots make any difference in the length of the skirt in the coming fashions? A fashion expert declared in answer to the question that short skirts were never likely to be ousted from popularity.

A Free Booklet On The Selection And Preparation Of Meat

WEAR BOUFFANT FROCK TO KEEP HIP LINES TRIM

New York—The robe de style—that is the full, bouffant frock—has been definitely accepted by the smart women of New York and Paris.

At the opera and the exclusive supper clubs this type of gown completely overshadows the straighter models that women have clung to for years with such amazing and surprising tenacity.

The reason for this sudden popularity is probably because the new bouffancy in no way jeopardizes the slender lines that women insist upon. And while the hem is full and distended, the waist and the hip line remain narrow.

This imparts much more grace and modernity to the full frock, and makes it much more appropriate for the modern type of woman than the older style where the fullness of the hip was lost in billowing folds of tulle or chiffon.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified croscote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action: It soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, croscote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to croscote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the croscote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory disorders, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Company, Atlanta, Ga.

Chickering

NEARLY a century ago, soon after Jonas Chickering made his first piano, he took into partnership one Captain John Mackay.

As owner and master of a fine square rigged ship, Captain Mackay made frequent trips to South America. Outward bound, the ship was laden with silver-voiced Chickering's, to be sold in its far away ports.

To this day there are to be found in Buenos Aires and other cities the quaint little six-octave pianos of that time—still singing their songs with infinite sweetness. And from the slender but exquisite beauty of their voices has grown the mighty instrument that today is the marvel of the musical world.

Adventures Of The Twins

The Stone In The Road

Cutie, Grubby and Mosey, and Grubby told him all about his plan to save Grubby Woodchuck from having a bad accident.

"Well, I'll do it," said Mosey. "I'll do what you ask me, Cutie. But it's a risky business."

"Oh, not so very," said Cutie mysteriously. "But thank you a lot. And now I'll make some other visits."

So he said good morning and went off to the place where Sammy Snake lived.

And they talked and talked.

"Yes, I'll do it," said Sammy finally. "But it's a ticklish business."

"Oh, not so very," said Cutie. And away he hopped to Prickles Porcupine's house.

And they sat and talked and talked.

"I'm, I'm," said Prickles. "I'll do it."

And after that Cutie flew around to other houses asking everybody to help him to save Grubby.

All this time Grubby was "stepping on the gas" in the little blue automobile and having the time of his life. Up hill and down dale he went like a big blue comet, whizzing under people's noses so fast they didn't know he was there until he was gone.

"Honk! Honk! Honk!" went his horn impudently, as much as to say, "Get off the earth, everybody, and excuse yourselves for living."

The morning was fine and the road was clear and everything was lovely, when suddenly on rounding a curve, didn't Grubby see an enormous rock lying right in the middle of the road—right straight in front of him not ten yards away.

To an ordinary sized automobile, like a taxi-cab, the rock wouldn't have looked so very large, but to an automobile just big enough for a groundhog family the rock loomed like a house.

Grubby tried to think, but he couldn't. However, he managed to push both feet on the pedals as hard as he could. "This threat out the clutch and put on the brake at the same time, if you know what that means. And of course he tried to guide his automobile around the rock.

But it all happened so quickly that he couldn't do much guiding. The mud guard hit the rock and tore it clear off, then the car bounced over to the edge of the road and landed in a ditch and stopped.

But that surprise was nothing to what followed. The rock suddenly began to move and a cross-looking head with a crooked beak pushed itself out from underneath.

"For murder's sake!" said Mosey Mud Turtle, for that is who the rock was, "why don't you watch where you're going? You gave my back-bone an awful bruise. I think I'm dinged for life."

"Don't you talk," shouted Grubby. "What were you doing in the middle of the road? You might have killed me!"

"No, you might have killed yourself," said Mosey. "I wasn't moving and you were going entirely too fast. The sign says, 'Curve ahead! Turn slow! I've a good notion to tell your father.'"

"You don't need to," said Grubby ruefully. "He'll see it soon enough. It's got to be fixed and paid for."

But Grubby had more lessons to learn.

I felt like a cut, Leslie, to be thinking all these things about poor Dick, even while I was trying to comfort him for his loss. That is why, I expect, I am telling it all to you. I am punishing myself for letting you know how very horrible I am in my own little inside.

It sometimes seems strange to me, Leslie dear, that Pate lets me stay in this world. I'm not particularly lovable, and I certainly have no one who loves me very dearly now that Bee is gone. Why should Pate still give me life while it takes Bee away, leaving a child behind?

The specialist told me this morning that, probably Bee might have lived had he been called earlier before the child was born, but it would have cost the life of the child. He supposed that Mr. Summers would rather have his child live than his wife. I looked at him in utter surprise. I couldn't think that anyone could be so callous. In fact, I asked him:

"Why don't you love your wife?" He answered: "I have never married."

"I thought so," was my brief comment. "It may be all right for a man of science to come to such a degree that he thinks only of saving on the new, but I for my part prefer a man who has a little heart in him."

The specialist smiled, and said: "Mrs. Atherton, you are a woman of courage, I like you."

"That's more than I can say for you," I answered. "It will be sixteen or seventeen years, Doctor, before little Beatrice" (after having called her Beatrice) "will be able to be of any good to the world, and her mother has always been of great good not only to Dick but to other people's friends, and for the next sixteen years she would go on doing a good work by making the world happy."

The specialist looked superior, but he held out his hand, and I was so mad at him that I ignored it when he said goodbye.

I presume, Leslie, that I shall miss Bee more than anyone else, for some way I could understand my heart to her more freely than to any other person I have ever known. I know you will understand this, because I have never written to even you in this way before.

I wonder who will care when I go out? Probably no one. There—I'm getting morbid. Hope you're well and happy, Leslie. Tell Mr. Prescott I'll be here only about three weeks longer which, although it will make my vacation longer than I thought, will bring me back to the office about the end of the month.

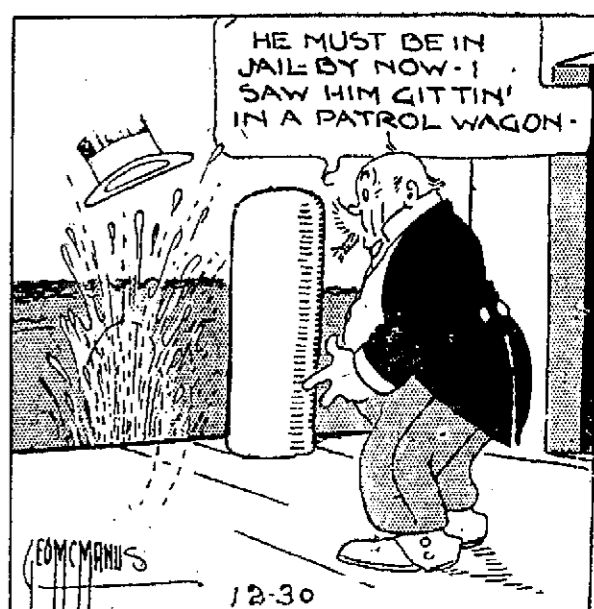

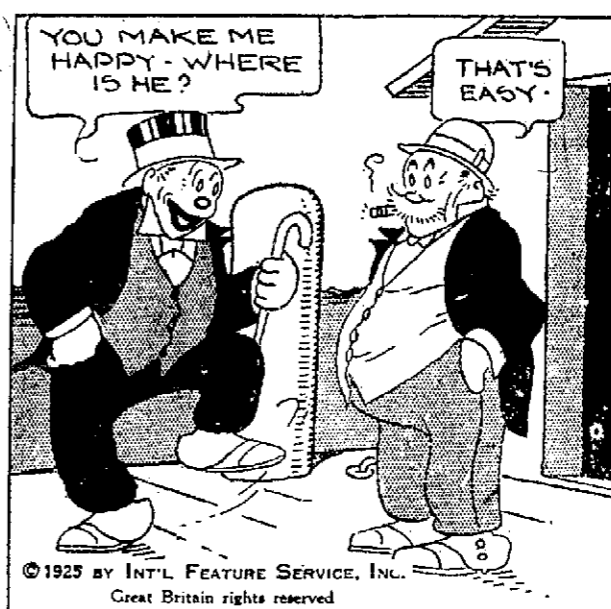

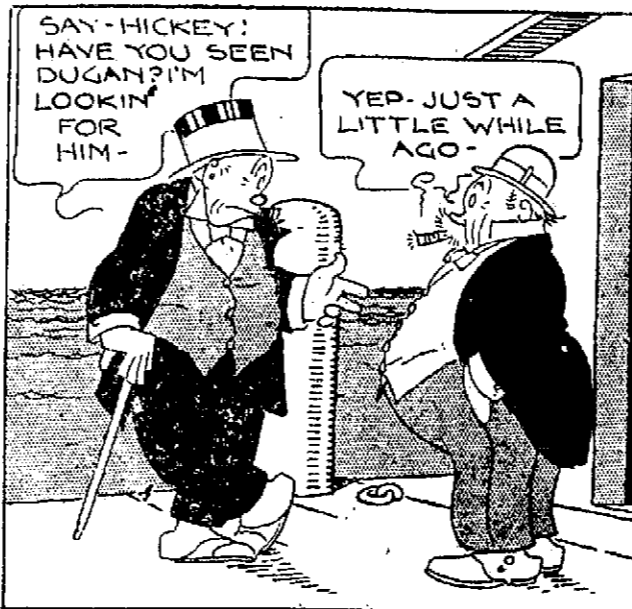

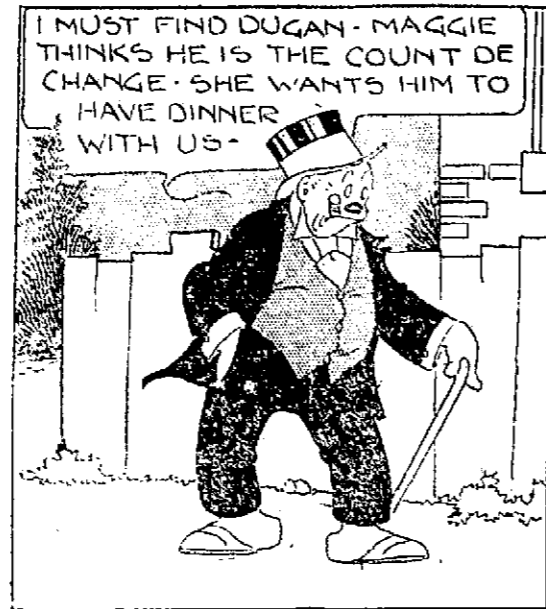

Lots of love, SALLY.

LEGION CAGERS WALLOP MENASHA QUINTET, 25-13

Easy Win Over Crippled Pail City Shooters Puts Appleton In Second Place

Mucks and Scheurle Star for Local Squad in Loosely Played E. W. Loop Struggle

TUESDAY'S GAMES
APPLETON 25, MENASHA 13.
Kimberly 32, Fond du Lac 17.

WEEK'S GAMES
Wednesday—Kimberly at Menasha.
Saturday—APPLETON AT FOND DU LAC.

Jumping into the lead immediately after the opening whistle sounded and adding points with ease as the game progressed, the American Legion cage squad had a very easy time downing the crippled Pail City Athletic Association five in an Eastern Wisconsin Home Talent League game at Army G Tuesday evening. The final score was 25-13 for the local Legionnaires. Menasha had trouble getting five men together to come to Appleton, only three reporting at the meeting place and the game was held by nearly a half-hour while the Pail City men were "gathering" a team. Finally six men were counted, two of whom had never played with their mates before during the year and another, Remmell, just out of a sick bed. Liability to get a team together probably will cause the Pails to withdraw from the loop before another week goes by, according to the Menasha players who participated in the battle. With Kimberly whipping Fondy at Kimberly Appleton slid into second place in the loop, two and a half games behind the undefeated K-C Athletics.

The game was loosely played, with each team showing flashes of form at times and then sinking back to a poorer brand of play. Manager Holzer tried nearly a half dozen different combinations when the game developed into an easy tilt and this probably accounted for the local quint's poor work at times. Menasha started to win at times, as Appleton started to win at the end of the Pail players weren't half trying. Remmell, crack Pail city forward, who was sick this week, had an off night and played poor ball most of the way, missing easy tries at the hoop and passing badly. He took a large number of shots. Grove, Pail center, nailed two long shots from pretty angles while Kelly played the best all-around game for the Pails guarding well and shooting two neat baskets in the final half. His work brought Menasha the closest win at Appleton at any time during the game when the score was 16-10 shortly before the end of the third quarter. Weyenberg played a nice floor game and caged a ringer. Liability to get free throws counted against Menasha, only one being sunk in eight tries. Appleton men made three out of seven.

Mucks, now Legion center was the big star of the fray. He garnered seven baskets and two out of three free tries for 16 of the 25 Appleton points. His follow up work was good and he nailed several nice shots from the free throw line. Scheurle also worked well, sticking the ball through the hoop three times and guiding well. Fraser got a basket and a free try and took the ball from the bounding board in a nice style. The score at the quarter was 6-2 for Appleton and at the half 15-6. The third quarter ended 20-12 and the local crew allowed Menasha only one point in the final period to end the battle 25-13.

PRO SQUAD FINED; M'GURK IS FIRED
Milwaukee Squad Gets Drastic Penalty for Game With Chicago High School Players

Columbus, O. — Drastic penalties were handed three players of the National Professional football league Tuesday night by President Joe P. Carr. The club, Milwaukee, Chicago Cardinals and Detroit, Pa., were found guilty of violating league rules during closing weeks of this year's playing season.

For a game played in Chicago on Dec. 10, in which four high school boys were permitted to play as members of the Milwaukee club the Cardinals and Milwaukee were fined $500 and given ninety days from Jan. 1 in which to dispose of all its club assets, at which time the management must retire from the league.

The Cardinals were fined $1,000 and placed on probation for one year. The game in which the high school boys participated and which was won by the Cardinals was stricken from league records.

Player Art Foltz, a former league player, who induced the boys to play is barred forever from playing in the National Football league.

President Carr held that A. L. McGurk, president of the Milwaukee club, was responsible for the boys playing and fined him $500. In addition he will be retired from the league and will not be permitted to operate a franchise in the league in the future.

WALSH TAKES 3RD IN GOLF TOURNEY
Local Pro, Competing With Nation's Greatest, Shoots 71, Just Two Short of First

Appleton gained considerable fame as a golf center in the minds of Pacific coast golf "bugs" on Monday when Frank Walsh, pro at the Des Moines country club of this city for the last two years, tied with three of the nation's leading golfers for third place in a meet held at the Virginia Country club course at Long Beach, Cal. The local pro finished with a 71 card, just two strokes behind the winner, Earl Howell of St. Louis, who posted the lowest card of 69. The tourney was a professional strokeplay held over the course on which the $2,500 Long Beach open meet will be held Saturday and Sunday.

Harry Cooper, Dallas and Charley Grest, led for second with 74's, while Al Epperson and Bill McIlhenny of Chicago and Bobby Cruikshank of Oklahoma City tied with Walsh with 75's. In the practice round Cooper traversed the first nine holes in 29, five minutes par. A score of 130, the country's leading pro golfers, in California for the $10,000 Los Angeles open at the Del Mar Country club from Jan. 7-10, completed Walsh as to take part in this meet and will have Al Watrous, the man who forced Hazen to play extra holes to successfully defend his national pro title at the national open meet at Chicago last fall as his partner.

Walsh is in great form as his work Monday showed and with his work as a partner he expects to cut deep into the $10,000 prize money, the largest golfing prize offered. Because of the attractive offers he will have the greatest golfers of the country as opponents, including many champions. Walt Hazen will be one of the players. MacDonald Smith, famous professional, formerly of San Francisco, but now of New York, arrived Monday to compete in the 100-100 golf events. He probably will be the outstanding favorite in each.

JOLLY 5 BOWLERS TAKE 3-PIN MATCH
Jolly Five girls team of the Tuttle Press Co. took their second win of the season from the Lamson Electric Bowlers Tuesday evening on the Arcade alley. But the victory wasn't as easy as it might have been, according to all reports. The Tuttle Press girls just squeaked out with a win by a mere three pin margin after dropping two out of three. The match was the closest rolled in this year with the last ball rolled by the last player deciding a win or loss. Not a 200 mark was chalked up during the match. D. Ganten with a 522 had high series of the struggle and her 192 score also was high game. O. Olson had a 155 for high game for the winners, and A. Stanner had a 467 for high series. The Electric took the opening tilt by 27 pins and then the Jolly Five pinbusters took the second by 71 pins, for a 41 pin lead. How the Electric tied a 115, the comeback and to the final game by 41 markers, but it wasn't quite a big enough comeback, according to the score sheet.

Jolly Five, Tuttle Press Co.—Won 1, Lost 2—S. Jones 134, 159, 171, 474; L. Austin 126, 161, 127, 414; L. Dunn 129, 125, 124, 378; A. Munster 130, 128, 125, 413; L. Ganten 159, 176, 192, 522; totals 683, 779, 739, 2201.

Lamson Electric Co.—Won 2, Lost 1—Audin 156, 138, 160, 454; O. Olson 155, 127, 128, 410; W. Hartmann 128, 117, 161, 405; A. Stanner 116, 174, 167; A. Kling 153, 151, 154, 460; totals 710, 708, 730, 2198.

GREEN BAY, MADISON WANT 1927 PIN MEET
Milwaukee (AP)—A body contested at Lake Mendota, Wis., on Tuesday night for the honor of holding the 1927 tournament of the Wisconsin Bowling association is a prospect of the state meet to be held here January 7, William F. Fenske, secretary, said.

Civic bodies of both cities are starting campaigns to obtain the tournament.

Manitowish also is bidding for the tournament and stands a good chance of landing it as a compromise choice. All of the cities named are bowling centers. Milwaukee, the host city this year, probably will remain neutral in the voting, allowing the fight to be settled by the smaller cities' voting strength.

Madison is slated to send more than sixty teams to the 1926 meet here, while Green Bay is endeavoring to send a like number. A drive was started this week for an entry list of 1,400 teams.

NEW SQUAD HITS LEADERS IN "Y" SOFTBALL LOOP
Y-Dormitory Combine Plays Strong Meyer Press Crew; Post-Crescents, Lawyers Clash

The newest addition to the Y. M. C. A. Industrial Indoor Baseball League, the Y-Dormitory team, will see its first action of the season Wednesday evening with the league-leading Meyer Press Co. team as its opponents. The new squad is composed of both Y-Dormitory and dormitory residents and is one of the strongest teams in the loop. A win will place it on top of the heap while a loss for Meyer Press, crew will sink the Post-Crescents to a second place.

Neenah played Oshkosh to a standstill at Neenah last week and only a slight weakening in the last few minutes of play gave the more experienced Sawdust city crew a win. The tie-down on the part of the less experienced players was fatal, however, and Oshkosh succeeded over two markers to win by a last being a lucky drive in the final seconds of the game. As Oshkosh held Appleton 1-1 during the regular game and forced the local boys into two overtime periods to win, a real game can be looked for Friday. Neenah showed its strength Sunday by whipping Menasha, 4-1. The Neenah crew scored four times on the Pails in the first period and it was only after Schuler had been inserted that their "Pail" rivals were able to mount a goal. The three Marquardt brothers are the Neenah stars.

Appleton will employ its veteran lineup against Neenah, resorting at most entirely to the men who whip Oshkosh, but the odds probably will get a chance against Menasha, Crowe, LaFord and Nesper all high in well with the local crew. Joe Sharp showed plenty of stuff Sunday, his marker shooting just the Oshkosh goaltender so fast not a player on either side knew it was in the net until a sub on the sidelines called it their attention. With Joe and Percy, both speed merchants, at the wings and the Bell brothers and Goshall at the defenses the local crew is well fortified in these departments. Drasher is a good goal tender and Schultz works nice at the "kickoff" job.

Belok's hopes of winning the hunting in the Interstate basketball loop received a crude setback when two Rivers and Sheboygan rolled the invading Fairwinds for two upsets. Both games were close but Belok's men were unable to locate the net when shooting from the foul lines.

One of the veteran basketball officials may be missing this season because it is doubtful if Cub Buck will be able to work many of his assignments. The former Wisconsin All-American suffered a bruised knee during the football season and the injured member is not responding to treatment fast.

Allen, who plays center for the Oshkosh hockey team has developed into a star. He is a good shot from any spot on the rink and is quick to follow up his shots for the net. Allen is coming along nicely as a stick handler, while his ability as a skater makes him clever at rushing the disc.

The Green Bay Packers will be well represented in the make up of the Notre Dame All Stars on the Florida tour. Jimmy Crowley, one of the famous four horsemen, is performing at halfback; George Vergara is holding down one of the end positions while Olaf Larsen is snapping the ball at center.

East Green Bay high will face the Colleagues on New Year's night in the high school gym. This basketball aggregation is composed of former high school stars and Tom Hearden, captain of the Notre Dame football team for 1926, will lead the college boys

MACROONS BATTLE TWIN CITY CREWS IN WEEK'S GAMES
Appleton Squad, Valley Hockey Loop Leader, Hits Tough Foes in Defense of Position

With six teams already in the field and hardly able to wait for the opening battle of the season, the hockey plans for the 1926 Industrial Basketball League of the Y. M. C. A. will be started at a meeting of representatives of the teams at 7:30 Saturday evening at the Y. M. C. A. A. P. Jensen, physical director of the association, will be in charge of the meeting. The teams to be represented are the Fox River Paper Co., 1924 and 1925 champs, the Meyer Press Co., the Appleton Coated Paper Co., the Riverside Fibre and Paper Co., Zwickler Knitting Mills and the Bankers. Any other industrial firm in the city interested in placing a team in the loop is asked to have a representative at the meeting. The loop is open to any industrial firm of Appleton.

The race this season promises to be one of the closest in years, with plenty of competition for the Fox River crew, 1925 winners. The loop has been a success since its start with all of the participants benefiting from its play both physically and in closer cooperation. Members of last year's loop were the Fox River team, the Bankers, Island Paper Co., Valley Sport Shop, the Sheomen squad and the Coated Paper Co. The Island Paper Co., Valley Sport Shop and Sheomen will not be in this year's loop, according to present indications, but the other three crews of last year will. Two teams are the Riverside Co., Zwickler and Mills and the Meyer Press. Three years ago the Kimberly-Clark crew of Kimberly copped top honors and since then the Bankers have been on top.

Because of past performance the Fox River crew, and the Bankers, runners-up for the past two years, are slightly strengthened through Arnie Hillman, star guard of their 1925 quint, is at Lawrence college. The Zwickler crew also will present a group of stars on the "Y" floor who have banded together for some time. The Bankers have been strengthened by the addition of Schwartz, former Marquette high star, and will make a strong bid for the top.

SQUEEZE GIRLS WIN FROM MALE BOWLERS
Koester's Orange Squeeze girls bowling team walked off with two out of three games rolled with the Springfield five Tuesday evening on the Arcade alleys whipping the men by 60 pins. Papez nailed 563 pins for high series of the match and also got a high game for his team with 126. However, E. Dunn of the girls' crew dropped 20 pins for his game of the evening. The men had the only 200 score of the fray. She also hit 522 for high series score for her team.

The men took the first game by 79 pins and the girls came back with a 109 pin win in the second battle and then added 30 more to end the match. Koester's Orange Squeeze—Won 2, lost 1—E. Dunn 152, 207, 177, 532; S. Roundhouse 122, 142, 162, 427; V. Wenzlar 146, 160, 126, 441; M. Simon 166, 127, 171, 464; G. Koester 148, 143, 177, 466; totals 747, 752, 533, 2300.

Springsmen's won 1, lost 2—Papez 192, 192, 130, 555; E. Gatacker 177, 116, 138, 431; A. Bug 148, 160, 169, 477; Gatacker 188, 94, 125, 407; H. Bug 120, 111, 171, 402; totals 826, 673, 783, 2282.

against the Red and White combination.

The Valley Conference schools are giving their second string basketballers plenty of action in the case schedule. Nearly all of the schools are booking the reserves for games on the same outline as the first squads. This assures the youngsters a number of trips all around the circuit.

Former Blue Star Returns from Florida; Dons Card Suit to Battle Beloiters

Appleton also will have the home-floor advantage so that a great struggle is assured. Local fans predict that this time the Fairies will not lose by a close one or two point margin but by 10 whole points at least if Appleton is going good.

MAC VS DUFORD
The battle royal of the fray will be when the two best centers of the loop hook up for the first time for premier honors. McAuliffe of the Cards has outplayed every man put against him with ease this year, scoring at least five baskets a game and Dukes Duford, old Bushy Business College and Marquette U. star has done the same. Mac probably will have two men on his neck the whole game as in the game with Oconto. Even then the center battle for loop pivot honors will rage.

Stub Krueger, 1924-25 Beloit high school star, has been going great for Beloit, scoring many baskets this season. However, this is because his opponents are the veteran Mike Dowd, the best all-around man on the Fairies squad, and he helped feed the uncovered youngster, who is a dead shot. In the last few games Krueger has been covered so that he has failed to come anywhere near his standard, but Dowd, a more dangerous all-around man, was higher scorer in these frays. In case Krueger is jerked as in the Sheboygan game, Duford will shift forward and McAuliffe will face a new star player in Krizenzyk, another star player.

With Kotal going good Appleton should beat the Fairies, but the game should draw one of the largest crowds of the year here because of the type of ball being played. Appleton now has ten men on the lineup with Eddie ready to go. They are Kotal, Basins, Jacobson, and Christoph. Lawrence; McAuliffe and Bushy, Beloit; Jorgenson, LaCrosse Normal; Koll and Scholten, Appleton High; Clark, Kimberly-Clark Co.

RAINBOW FIVE LOSES TO ARMY STORE CREW
Rainbow Gardens bowling team an entrant in the new city pin league, went down to a 44 pin defeat at the hands of the Appleton Army store team Tuesday evening on the Eagle alleys. The Army store men copped two out of three games. Kositzke of the winner was the star of the match, clinching a 244 for high game and a 594 high series mark. A 582 by Johnston was high for the losers and Gearsen had a 212 for high game for his team. Other double century records went to Johnston and Kositzke of the losers with 207 and 210, respectively. and Grimmer, Pinner and Jaschub of the winners with scores of 204, 214 and 210 respectively.

The Rainbow squad won the opening tilt, taking a 14 pin lead, but the Army men took the next by 22 pins to forge ahead 8 markers. In the final game the Army pinmen added 26 more to their total.

Rainbow Gardens—Won 1, Lost 2—Johnston 183, 192, 207, 582; Gearsen 176, 173, 212, 561; C. Currie 192, 140, 165, 497; Koerner 140, 170, 191, 501; Kolerzke 210, 178, 168, 556. Totals 901, 943, 944, 2697.

Appleton Army Store—Won 2, Lost 1—Kositzke 157, 193, 244, 594; Grimmer 189, 204, 182, 575; Pinner 172, 181, 213, 566; Jaschub 210, 157, 173, 540; Wellhouse 159, 170, 167, 496. Totals 887, 875, 979, 2741.

The loss of Mike, a vet of years' standing with the Beloiters and a man who had played with the same teammates for several years broke up a great, smoothworking combination which could not be replaced in a week. Now, however, with a week of trying a new combine, the Beloit offense is working as smooth as ever and they are as dangerous as before they lost a game. They play Oconto Friday night while Appleton rests and

CHINA GENERAL MURDER VICTIM

Hsu Shu Cheng Is Assassinated by Son of General Whom He Himself Killed

Peking, (AP)—General Hsu Shu Cheng, known as "Little Hsu" was shot and killed on the railway station platform Langfang Tuesday night. The assassin, self proclaimed in a countrywide manifesto, was Lu Cheng Wu, a captain in the Kuomintang (National People's Army) and son of General Lu Chien Chang, who, little Hsu shot in Lu's garden at Tientsin while a dinner guest there in 1918. Captain Lu, who apparently has not been arrested, declared his act was in revenge for his father's murder. Lu is a cousin of Marshall Feng Yu Hsiang, formerly styled "the Christian general" who commands the Kuomintang forces which recently occupied Tientsin. Hsu had just arrived after a tour of Europe, the United States and Japan where he studied political, economic and military affairs for the Peking government.

JAMES LOCKERY
James Lockery, brother of William W. Lockery, patrolman of Appleton police force, died Dec. 28 at Los Angeles, Calif., according to word received by the officer Tuesday. Burial was to take place at Los Angeles Wednesday.

Mr. Lockery was 62 years old and was born and reared on a farm at Oshkosh. He left about 25 years ago and lived at Bovey, Minn., and Portland, Ore., before moving to Los Angeles. He was unmarried.

Arrangements for the burial were made by John Steidl of Appleton, who is spending the winter at Los Angeles. He learned of Mr. Lockery's death and wired relatives here that he would attend to the funeral.

EARL LAMERES
Word has been received here of the death of Earl LaMer, of Sentinel Butte, N. D., which occurred at 9 o'clock Tuesday night at his home. Mr. LaMer was formerly a resident of Appleton and was a graduate of Ryan high school. Funeral arrangements have not yet been made. The survivors are his widow and three children, Jean, Patricia and William. Mrs. LaMer was formerly Miss Margaret Hardy of Ellington.

MRS. JOSEPHINE HAUSER
Mrs. Josephine Hauser, 66, mother of Mrs. E. A. Meyer of Kaukauna, died at 9:30 Monday evening at her home in the town of Scott. She was born in 1859 in Bay Settlement. The survivors are four sons, George F. La Fond of Marinette, Rene La Fond of Huron, S. D., Jess La Fond of Green Bay and George J. Hauser of Milwaukee; one daughter, Mrs. E. A. Meyer of Kaukauna, and one brother, Farmer Houle of Chicago. The funeral services will be held Thursday morning at Holy Cross church at Bay Settlement. Interment will be in Allouez cemetery at Green Bay.

Washington In Row Over Memorial to "Greatness"

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
Washington — A lot of politeness is mixed up in the controversy over the relative greatness of the late Col. Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson.

It doesn't seem as if the validity of a man's claim to the honor of a national memorial ought to be regarded as depending on whether he was a Republican or a Democrat, but apparently that's the way Congress looks at it.

At any rate, Congress members are divided mainly along party lines on the Roosevelt-Wilson memorial proposition. If it were a question of the memorial alone, two memorials would settle the matter.

But, as was pointed out recently, both groups want the same site. As Washington is planned, just one unoccupied spot remains in Potomac Park, where an imposing monument will show to the very best advantage.

The Rooseveltians thought they had this spot pre-empted and had their plans all drawn, but now the Wilsonites are making a strong drive to upset the arrangement.

A surprising degree of bitterness is developing out of the wrangle. The Republican majority in the senate is in a position to decide in the Rooseveltians' favor and that's their inclination, but it isn't easy to go ahead with a pretentious memorial to their hero's greatness in the face of a formidable, though a minority, protest that he wasn't as great as they think he was.

The situation probably would greatly entertain the colonel, if he could be here to see it, but it enrages his admirers.

The Rooseveltians, on the other hand, are placed in the position of having to denigrate the late president's accomplishments as their only means of combating his greatness' superiority to the colonel's.

Naturally this, in turn, infuriates the Wilsonites. Both sides realize that it's an undignified squabble, they resent it on their respective great men's account, and yet, while the other keeps it up, neither one can stop it.

The suggestion, heard in a few quarters, that the question be left to a national plebiscite, finds little support as it's argued such a solution simply would swell the row from Washington to country-wide proportions, with no hope of leading to a generally satisfactory settlement in any event.

A likely outcome appears to be the adoption of a Congressional resolution against the erection of any national memorial within less than 50 or 100 years following the death of the individual it is intended to honor.

This will be a bitter pill for the rival memorialists to swallow, but it is beginning to be agreed that some way must be found of terminating what, in its nature, is a scandalous dispute and getting worse the longer it continues.

As for sites for memorials, there's no scarcity of them in Washington, provided the memorialists are willing to take what they can get.

The office of public buildings and parks recently issued a list of 35 of them and there'll be more as the city grows, due allowance being made for them whenever an addition is tacked on.

However, they won't do for the Rooseveltians and Wilsonites. They want that place in Potomac Park or none at all.

But, as was pointed out recently, both groups want the same site. As Washington is planned, just one unoccupied spot remains in Potomac Park, where an imposing monument will show to the very best advantage.

The Rooseveltians thought they had this spot pre-empted and had their plans all drawn, but now the Wilsonites are making a strong drive to upset the arrangement.

RUMOR MERGERS SPUR OIL BIDS

S. S. Kresge Shares Mount to New Record High Price of 830 on Stock Market

New York, (AP)—Readjustment of speculative accounts with the approach of the new year created considerable irregularity in initial dealings on the stock market Wednesday. United States Steel, General Electric and General Motors were lower but prospects of further mergers in the petroleum industry led to buying of the low priced oil shares. S. S. Kresge mounted to a record high price of $801.

Subsequent prices indicated that buying was of a highly selective character. Marked improvement was shown by a few high priced specialties, such as Mathieson Alkali and International Telephone, but early gains elsewhere were limited to a point or so. Oil shares continued under accumulation as various merger possibilities were discussed in Wall street and investment rail issues responded to extraordinary favorable reports of November earnings.

Buying of Frisco, Coca Cola, American Can, Chrysler and Remington Typewriter, however, was counteracted by declines of 1 to 3 points in Postum Cereal, National Cereal and Suit, North American Foundation Company.

Foreign exchanges opened steady with sterling unchanged at $4.847, and French francs slightly higher at 3.732 cents.

Isolated points of weakness cropped out, Postum Cereal yielding 5 1/2 points, but the general market ruled strong with the demand embracing an unusual assortment of shares. S. S. Kresge advanced 31 points to 830, C. C. C. and St. L. 11 to 200, and National Tea 10 to 245, all new high figures.

American Smelting also touched a new maximum figure for the year at 141 1/2. The renewal rate on call loans was unchanged at 6 per cent.

The closing was firm. Total sales approximated 1,900,000 shares.

Out-Of-Date Ads Do Not Satisfy Up-To-Date People. Read This Page Daily

All ads are restricted to their proper classifications and the regular Appleton Post-Crescent style of type. Daily rate per line for consecutive insertions:

Charges Cash
One day	12
Three days	30
Six days	50
Minimum charge	60c

Advertising ordered for irregular insertions takes the one time insertion rate, no ad taken longer than basis of two lines. Count 5 average words to a line. Charged ads will be received by telephone and if paid at office within six days from the first day of insertion cash rate will be allowed. Ads ordered for three days or six days and stopped before expiration will only be charged for the number of times the ad appeared and adjustment made at the time of payment. Special rate for yearly advertising upon request. Publishers reserve the right to edit or reject any classified advertising copy. Telephone 54, ask for Ad Taker. There's A Reason For Most Things!

And it's not hard to discover why thousands of this newspaper's readers turn to its A-B-C Classified Section every day.

They do it because it's a profitable investment of their time!

They read this part of the paper for the same reason they read any other pages-because they find interesting news in it. And not only interesting news, but money saving and making news, as well.

They will find opportunities there to make their money go further, to gain more satisfaction, to get better positions, to live in more attractive surroundings and to get more out of life.

When a classified section offers these things, it becomes a part of the community. And we believe that the A-B-C Ads can serve you as well as they do these other thousands of people of this city.

INDUSTRIES ARE PREPARING FOR VETS BANQUET

List Will Be Made Up of All Who Have Worked 25 Years or More

Employees of Appleton industrial plants who have served their employers for 25 years or more will be guests at the manufacturers' dinner Jan. 13, which is being arranged by the industrial and transportation committee of Appleton Chamber of Commerce, and which will be featured by an address by Douglas Malloch, one of America's greatest dramatists and poets. The manufacturers' dinner will be held at the same time as the merchants' annual dinner arranged by the retail division of the chamber of commerce. After the conclusion of the two banquets, the merchants and manufacturers will gather in one place to hear Mr. Malloch's address. Mr. Malloch is well known as a favorite after dinner speaker in Appleton, having spoken here twice at chamber of commerce banquets and at the Tenth district Rotary conference in this city in the spring of 1924.

The chamber of commerce has compiled a list of industrial firms in and near Appleton which have been in existence for 25 years or more. An employee who has worked for one of these firms 25 years or more is entitled to a guest ticket at the banquet.

The following firms are on the chamber of commerce list as having been in existence for at least 25 years:

Appleton Machine Co., Appleton Chair Co., Appleton Woolen Mills, Appleton Superior Knitting Co., Appleton Wire Works, Appleton Marble and Granite Works, Appleton Shirt and Pants Co., Chris Bremer Estate, Appleton Toy and Furniture Co., Packer Furnace Co., Advance Car Motor Co., Eagle Manufacturing Co., Fox River Paper Co., Goshauer Concrete Works, Interlake Pulp and Paper Co., Kimberly-Clark Co., Fox River Wire Cloth Co., Meyer Press, Fox River Valley Knitting Co., Potts-Wood Co., Patten Paper Co., Jacquet Cheese Co., Marshall Paper Co., Post Publishing Co., Kurz and Root, Wisconsin Wire Works, Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power Co., Wisconsin Telephone Co., Thimney Pulp and Paper Co., Riverside Pulp and Paper Co., Valley Iron Works and Standard Manufacturing Co.

If the chamber of commerce has omitted the names of any Appleton concern from this list of 25-year-old industries, the officials of such a concern are requested to notify the chamber immediately.

ROUTES 15, 55 REOPENED AGAIN

Drifts Which Interrupted Motor Traffic Are Being Cleared Away

Motor traffic which was interrupted Saturday and Sunday by drifting snow again has been resumed on the principal highways and cars can go all the way from Green Bay to Milwaukee, according to authentic reports received here. There is practically no snow in Outagamie county, as less snow was received here than in places further south.

Highways 15 and 55 were drifted full in the vicinity of Lomira by the high winds of Saturday night, and motorists who were attempting to travel to and from Milwaukee had to abandon their efforts. Many cars became stalled in the drifts and had to be pulled out by farmers' teams. Motorbuses also had to cease service and the traveling public had to resort to the trains.

Counties on highways 15 and 55 have put snowplows into operation and the route to Milwaukee again is clear. There are places where only one track has been made through the snow so that cars must wait for one another to pass; but there are no blockades.

Bus lines out of Appleton are understood to be operating on their usual schedules. Those on roads running east and west had the least trouble, as the north and south roads are the ones which were drifted over.

NO MAIL DELIVERY ON NEW YEARS DAY

There will be no delivery of mail either on the city or rural routes on New Year's day, it was announced at the postoffice Wednesday. The service windows will be open from 8 to 10 o'clock in the morning, and the usual collection of mail in the business section will be made in the evening. The sub-stations will be open for business as long as the stores in which the stations are located remain open.

Chimney Fire

A chimney fire broke out at the John Forster residence, 754 E. Hancock, at 9:30 Tuesday evening. An alarm was turned in to the fire department and the blaze was put out before any damage was done.

Mark Banta of Rhineland spent Tuesday in the city with friends. Chief of Police George T. Pratt left Wednesday for Madison on a business trip. He will return Wednesday evening.

OTHER COUNTIES HAVE REPEALED DANCE HALL LAW

Feeling Here Against “Blue Laws” Reflected Throughout State

Action taken by the outgiantic board of supervisors about a year ago in repealing the dance hall ordinance was followed this year by many county boards throughout the state. The subject furnished ground for much argument with other boards which took no action, and the consensus of opinion seemed to be that “blue laws” and too strict dance hall regulations were undesirable. A few of the boards tightened the regulations.

The boards of Keweenaw and Manistowic counties repealed their dance hall ordinances, the action resulting in considerable discussion as to the merits of dance hall regulations. In Keweenaw county, a resolution in the dance hall fund was voted to the aid of dependent children.

Additional restrictions were placed upon dance halls in other counties.

Considerable interest was attached in Woodco to the action taken on questions involving enforcement of the Sunday laws, particularly as affecting Sunday night dances. The county board refused to adopt a resolution designed to limit Sunday night dances and then adopted another resolution petitioning the state legislature to modify the so-called “blue laws.”

The Dance-co board voted that no permits should be issued for dances without the approval of the supervisors or in whose district the dances are to be held.

All town dances were cut out, and two inspectors are now required in place of one in Park co. V. A. Hansen, county clerk, reports.

The Pierce-co board amended the regulations by requiring “proper” lights in dance halls and by forbidding the issuance of “pass out” checks. It also provided that the dance hall committee, instead of the chairman of the board, appoint and be responsible for dance hall inspectors.

LILLGE IS PRESIDENT OF SHEET METAL WORKERS

At the annual meeting of Appleton Sheet Metal Workers Local Union No. 402 Monday evening, officers were elected for the ensuing year. They are: President, Norman Lillge, vice president, William Lillge, recording secretary, William Linders, financial secretary, John Voet, treasurer, John Ehke, warden, Chester Heinrich, conductor, William Fisher, trustee, Fred Meyer, Fred Duerfeler and Robert Alendroth. Those elected delegates to Appleton Trades and Labor council are John Linders, John Voet and John Ehke. John Voet was chosen delegate to attend the Wisconsin district council in Milwaukee, Jan. 9 and 10.

Of this number, 391 were civil cases and 48 were criminal. Jury trials, before Judge Werner during this period numbered 47, while there were 30 contested court cases. Outside judges sat in circuit court cases in this district 11 days, and Judge Werner sat in 23 cases outside his own district.

Circuit courts in the state are keeping abreast of their calendars except in Milwaukee, where congestion has burdened judges with a heavy load, Judge Reid declared.

He complimented the Wisconsin judiciary in keeping up with its work and lauded the judges of the various circuits for their cooperation in sitting for other judges in times of need.

The speaker reviewed the work of the board for the past year, stressing the importance of suggestions that resulted in the passage or change in many of the laws of the Wisconsin judicial system.

Public criticism of the courts probably always will be indulged in, Judge Reid said. A great deal of such criticism is due to lack of knowledge on the part of those who criticize, but some of the criticism is well founded.

This justified criticism, Judge Reid declared, lay in the administration of the criminal law where many courts have been found to be inefficient. This condition does not prevail in Wisconsin, he observed. The speaker, however, held up the criminal courts of Illinois as examples of inefficiency which he said deserves public condemnation. He asserted that part of the inefficiency may be charged to the Illinois criminal code which allows loose practice and thus enables the courts in their desire for speedy administration of justice.

The jurist recommended that juries be called at least once between sessions of circuit courts in Wisconsin for the purpose of dispatching criminal cases awaiting trial.

“Every measure bringing about prompt determination of every criminal prosecution is to the benefit of the innocent as necessary for prompt punishment. It is of double importance in maintaining the confidence of the public in the court,” Judge Reid said.
